Visit Begun At Jakarta By Kennedy

Soldiers Remove Anti-U.S. Signs On Route Into Capital

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived in Indonesia today for a six-day visit. Before his arrival soldiers scratched off anti-American slogans crudely painted along his route into the capital.

The airliner that brought Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, touched down at the Jakarta airport three hours late. Indonesian Atty Gen. Gunawan, who had invited Kennedy to visit the Socialist island republic, led the welcoming party.

Kennedy and his wife had flown from Hong Kong to Singapore, and they used their unexpected stopover there for a fast sightseeing drive about the British Commonwealth island.

Indonesian youths painted signs saying "Kennedy go home" and "United States no, Indonesia yes" on walls and buildings. They also handed out posters and leaflets.

Indonesians were annoyed because the United States permitted chartered Dutch airliners with uniformed troops aboard to refuel on U.S. territory en route to West New Guines. Last week students stoned the U.S. embassy here in protest. The United States has banned such flights but commercial Dutch airliners carrying troops in civilian clothes can still land on U.S. territory.

Kennedy will have several meetings with President Sukarno —whom he has met before—and other government officials, including anti-Communist Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, the national security minister.

On the eve of Kennedy's arrival the Indonesian army sent 10,000 jungle fighters to eastern Indonesia, apparently to start infiltration of West New Guinea.

The United States favors negotiations between Indonesia and the Netherlands in hopes of reaching a settlement.

Kennedy was carrying a letter from his brother, the President, to Sukarno but the contents were not made public.

This is Kennedy's fourth major stop on his trip. After Japan, he had an unexpectedly prolonged stay in Formosa before continuing on to Hong Kong where he had planned a weekend rest.

Market Staff Ratifies New Pay Contract

Employes of the A. & P. Supermarket Sunday afternoon unanimously ratified a new two - year contract granting across-the-board pay boosts totaling 22½ cents hourly for full-time workers, an improved vacation and hospitalization plan and several other concessions.

The contract covers 53 full-time and part-time workers, replacing an agreement that expired in early January. It was negotiated over a span of seven weeks in three meetings in East Liverpool and one in Pittsburgh.

It provides a general 12½-cent hourly raise in the first year for full-time workers and a blanket 10-cent boost in the second year, also for full-time employes.

It also provides that $5 weekly increases will be applied to the minimum wage rate for produce department head and meat department head and a $4 a week boost will be applied to the minimum rate for dairy department head.

The new agreement calls for three weeks' vacation after eight years' service. Formerly, three weeks' vacation came after 10 years.

A boost of 5 cents per hour in each year is provided on the top female rate for part-time help, other than high school students. An increase of $5 per week, on top of the present rate, is provided for female meat department employes who operate semi-automatic wrapping machines. A boost of 12½ cents hourly is provided for female employes who operate the wrapping machine in relief.

A new clause was added to cover high school students who work part-time. It provides a rate of $1.63½ per hour for the first six months, $1.68½ per hour for the second six months and $1.78½ per hour thereafter.

An increase of 4 cents per hour, over and above the other increases, was applied to the top contract rate for part-time male em-

Reunited With Wife

Pilot Powers Due Intense Quizzing

WASHINGTON (AP) — American U2 spy pilot Francis Gary Powers faces detailed grilling from U.S. intelligence agents when he completes a secret rendezvous with his wife.

Among questions awaiting the flier, free after 21 months in a Soviet prison, are: What really happened the morning of May 1, 1960, when he was downed deep inside the Soviet Union? How much did he tell the Russians about his mission?

Preliminary questioning presumably began shortly after the 32-year-old pilot crossed a Berlin bridge into American hands Saturday in a two-for-one trade for Soviet spy Rudolf I. Abel.

Official sources are not saying Powers is in military or government custody, but ever since he crossed a white line where Communist East Germany ends and West Berlin begins, a carefully contrived secrecy has cloaked his movements.

All the White House would say in a brief announcement Sunday was that Powers was home again and that he had been reunited with members of his family.

In a far-flung game of hide-and-seek dogged newsmen tried to find out for themselves where Powers and his wife, Barbara, were holding their reunion. Various leads pointed to Maryland's Eastern Shore, but the exact meeting place could not be pinned down.

The White House declined to say what family members Powers saw but presumably he met also with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers, of Norton Va.

The Central Intelligence Agency was believed to be setting up a board of inquiry to look fully into the Powers case. CIA Director John A. McCone will determine the board's composition.

Another figure in the unprecedented exchange arrived home Sunday. James Britt Donovan, the New York lawyer who defended Abel in his 1957 espionage trial and then negotiated his deportation in a trade for Powers and student Frederic Pryor, brought word still another American imprisoned in the Soviet Union may win his freedom. Marvin W. Makinen, 22, a student from Ashburnham, Mass., is serving an eight-year sentence in Kiev on espionage charges.

Donovan said: "I have what I believe to be assurance that if the better relations contemplated by this exchange should develop, the Soviet Union would contemplate extending clemency to Makinen."

The White House statement on Powers said that "as previously stated, he will be interviewed by appropriate U.S. government officials."

The United States has said he was a Lockheed test pilot working under a National Aeronautics and Space Administration contract when he was downed in a high-altitude photographic mission 1,240 miles inside the Soviet Union. It is generally assumed that the CIA directed the operation.

U.S. Marks Anniversary

'Nothing Special' Slated By Lincoln's Descendant

MANCHESTER, Vt. (AP)—The mistress of "Hildene" planned "nothing special" today as millions of other Americans remembered the 153rd anniversary of the birth of her great-grandfather.

Mary Lincoln Beckwith, 63, says she is proud to be a member of the distinguished Lincoln family but thinks its illogical to "plan something for a relative who was dead before you were born."

Since 1938 she has operated the 1,000-acre dairy farm built by her grandfather, Robert Todd Lincoln, only son of the 16th president to reach maturity.

Her neighbors say Miss Beckwith doesn't much care about her distinguished ancestry.

"It always provokes me," she said, "when people stare and say: 'There's Lincoln's great-granddaughter.' It's just my luck he was related to me."

Her farm was built at the turn of the century, 30-odd years after Robert Lincoln first visited this southwestern Vermont town with his mother, Mary Todd Lincoln, while he was a Harvard undergraduate.

Her cousin, Lincoln Isham, 68, lives in nearby Dorset where he works on his collection of Lincolniana, much of which has been donated to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Her brother, Lincoln Beckwith, operates a farm in Virginia. None of the three Lincoln descendants has children.

Their great-grandfather was said to have visited Springfield, Vt. during his first term.

Stephen Douglas, the famed "Little Giant" with whom Lincoln engaged in the memorable series of debates, was a native of Brandon, Vt., and a graduate of Brandon Academy.

Today was a legal holiday for state employes and most banks in Vermont remained closed. But for Mary Lincoln Beckwith, indifferent, but proud of her ancestor, it was just another work day.

West Eyes Red Request For Parley

U.S., Allies Slated To Reject Plan, But May Set Later Date

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has proposed an 18-nation summit conference on disarmament to meet in Geneva in little more than a month. The West seemed certain to turn down the proposal, though a later summit session seems a definite possibility.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Khrushchev's plan today. The proposal was contained in a letter to President Kennedy delivered at the State Department Sunday morning.

In the letter Khrushchev proposed that the 18-nation disarmament conference—scheduled to begin March 14 in Geneva—start work at the summit level.

It was understood that the session would be confined to the single subject of disarmament, based on a set of principles agreed to by the United States and the Soviet Union at the United Nations last September.

What stand the United States and its allies, and perhaps a number of non-aligned countries, will take in response to the Khrushchev proposal will be determined in urgent consultations expected to begin immediately.

The White House and State Department declined any immediate comment as word of the reported new Khrushchev maneuver quickly circulated through the capital.

There appeared to be no likelihood whatever that Kennedy would agree to a meeting with Khrushchev and other government chiefs at the outset of the March 14 talks.

The President often has said there must be adequate advance

Cold To Ease, Help Remove Area's Snow

Nature's own snow removal aid, above freezing temperatures, will swing into action this afternoon to help remove an accumulation of three inches or more of the white stuff that fell on the Tri-State area in a storm that lasted six hours Sunday afternoon and night.

The mercury will climb to a high range of 32-37 this afternoon, heralding the start of a warming trend that will continue Tuesday, the Ohio forecaster said.

No more snow is in sight in the immediate future, the weatherman added. There's a chance of a light freezing drizzle in Western Ohio today, he added. The overnight low will be 21-27.

The mercury went to an overnight low of only 24 in the downtown area, promising a thaw would set in before afternoon.

The snow accumulation built up rapidly in a storm that began in late afternoon yesterday and continued without a let-up until about 10 p. m. Suburban areas measured approximately three inches and the accumulation was about the same in downtown East Liverpool.

By dawn today, main highways in the rural areas and the principal city arteries were essentially clear of snow, but secondary roads and streets still were slippery and treacherous. In rural areas, particularly, a coating of ice underlaid the new snow—the residue from another snowfall Friday.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol said Route 30 is slippery and slushy today. Officers advised motorists to use caution.

The secondary roads in the county are snow - covered and slippery and are being plowed by road crews, the patrol said.

The state police barracks near Beaver Falls reported highways in its area slushy this morning.

The Carnegie barracks reported the Parkway near Pittsburgh in "pretty good shape." Some roads were reported slippery. Highway crews plowed and cindered Sunday.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville said the main highways in its area are wet and slippery in spots, while the secondary roads remained snow covered.

Mysterious Blasts Cause Closing Of Sewer Pipe Plant

Gas Source Sought With Area Closed

Finished Products In Piles Destroyed By Tremor Series

The American Vitrified Products Co. plant was closed this morning when a series of explosions rocked the yard of the East End concern.

Some 150 employes were sent home and Virginia Ave. from Pennsylvania Ave. to St. George St. was blocked off immediately.

No one was injured by the explosions, which occurred toward the rear of the yard near the Pennsylvania Railroad line. Damage apparently was confined to piles of vitrified pipe stacked in the yard.

The cause of the explosions hasn't been determined, but preliminary reports indicated they were caused by either a break in the main natural gas line serving the plant or an accumulation of sewer gas, Paul Calhoon, plant superintendent, said.

Calhoon said the natural gas line was turned off and will be plugged and submitted to an air pressure test to determine if there is a break in the main.

The plant superintendent said he was unable to estimate the amount of pipe lost in the explosion, but some employees said it appeared that "several tons" were broken. Some of the piles "just crumpled," they added.

Four of the plant's 20 kilns were being fired when the gas was shut off and the plant was closed, adding to the damage, Calhoon said.

"There's a heck of a big crack in the ground," Calhoon added, and in other places the blasts raised the ground.

Calhoon said the plant was closed and the employes sent home because of the possibility of additional explosions. He explained the plant is located on fill

Kent St. Home Fire Damage Set At $5,000

City Firemen Blame Furnace For Blaze; Furnishings Saved

Loss was estimated unofficially today at $5,000 after a fire blamed on an overheated furnace caused heavy damage Sunday morning to the interior of a two - story frame home at 926 Kent St. occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller and their grown son and daughter.

The fire started in the flooring immediately above the coal furnace and mushroomed throughout the cellar, firemen said. Following the heat runs, the blaze worked its way onto the first floor. It also followed the studding up both the west and east sides of the house and burst forth into the second floor.

Firemen were forced to chop a hole through one of the exterior walls to help quell the blaze. They also cut through the flooring on the ground floor of the home near a fire place which sits directly over the furnace.

There was extensive damage in the livingroom and the walls and floors were burned on the second floor, firemen reported. A burning mattress was hurled out of a bedroom window.

Virtually all of the furniture was carried out, however, by neighborhood volunteers after firemen had ventilated the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their son, Ralph Miller Jr., 24, and a daughter, Suzanne, 22, moved into an adjoining vacant home at 930 Kent St. which the older Millers also own.

Mrs. Miller, at home alone at the time, discovered the fire at about 11 a. m. She shouted to her daughter, Mrs. Roy Plant, 933 Kent St., to telephone the fire department, as there is no telephone in the Miller home.

The East End truck responded, along with a pumper from Central fire station, the squad car and the chief's car. Seven firemen fought the blaze for about 90 minutes. No one was hurt.

Heavy Rains Again Pound Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's sixth day of saturation started spectacularly today as cloudbursts opened up on parts of the Los Angeles area, creating lakes up to seven feet deep.

There were flash floods in the Hollywood Hills and a house at 2934 Beachwood Dr. was torn loose from its foundation and pushed into the street.

A woman at 6456 Deep Dell Place in the Hollywood Hills reported water was rushing through her living room.

At the intersection of Sunset Boulevard and Pacific Coast Highway early this morning the water was seven feet deep.

It was four feet deep on Vermont Avenue between 88th and 90th streets in Los Angeles. It was over the rooftops of automobiles at some other points.

The police flood control office said all major streets in the Hollywood area were awash.

More than 20 deaths had been

County Bank Robber Of '55 Loses Appeal

Drugging Claimed At Trial In Holdup At New Waterford

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Saturday denied the appeal of a bank robber who contends he was drugged at the time of his 1955 trial in Cleveland.

The appellant, John Raymond Malone, was convicted Sept. 12, 1955, of helping to rob the New Waterford, Ohio, Bank of $16,628. He was sentenced to 20 years in the federal penitentiary at Alcatraz.

The robbery occurred Nov. 24, 1954.

Malone appealed his conviction in 1957 on the grounds that the government allegedly forced witnesses to frame him at the trial. The appeal was denied.

On Sept. 13, 1960, Malone filed a new appeal, contending he hid 1.5 ounces of gum opium on his person while awaiting trial and that he was drugged and incapable

Storms May Again Delay Orbit Effort

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The worst sea conditions of the winter in the central Atlantic today cast doubt on whether astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. will make his scheduled orbital flight on Wednesday.

But National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials made no change in the date in hopes that the conditions might clear by launching time.

A weather advisory reported that winds of 35 knots were rolling up 10-foot waves today in an area between Bermuda and the central Atlantic — where Glenn's space capsule would land if the flight were terminated after one orbit.

An official said acceptable conditions are seas of no more than five feet and winds of 15 to 18 knots.

The advisory said that the storm which led to these "very disturbed" conditions was moving northward and was expected to moderate today.

"With the storm track in the Atlantic quite active for the first time this winter," the advisory continued, "periods of light winds and sea conditions will be relatively short but it may be possible to have conditions sufficiently quiet by the planned launch time."

Another less intense storm system was predicted for the same area Tuesday, but it should move out by Wednesday, NASA said.

Demonstrations Slated

Police, Riot Units Alerted To New French Violence

PARIS (AP) — Thirty thousand police and riot forces stood by in the Paris region today as worried government officials girded for possible street clashes and other violence.

Security forces were concentrated to counter a banned demonstration scheduled for late afternoon on the vast Place de la Republique in eastern Paris. The French Socialist party called for a "peaceful but energetic" demonstration against the right-wing Secret Army Organization and against police repression of demonstrations last Thursday which left eight dead and hundreds injured.

The French Communist party quickly summoned its militants to join the Socialists "shoulder to shoulder" and other leftist organizations backed the demonstration call.

The government sternly recalled that all street demonstrations are banned under the state of urgency in effect in France since last April's abortive Algiers uprising. Interior Minister Roger Frey warned in a nationwide radio-TV speech that unless the demonstration organizers back down, the forces of order "will do their duty and prevent the demonstration."

Premier Michel Debre made an unusual visit to the Interior Ministry today to confer with law enforcement chiefs and to express the government's confidence in their ability to maintain order.

No one was injured by the explosions, which occurred toward the rear of the yard near the Pennsylvania Railroad line. Damage apparently was confined to piles of vitrified pipe stacked in the yard.

The cause of the explosions hasn't been determined, but preliminary reports indicated they were caused by either a break in the main natural gas line serving the plant or an accumulation of sewer gas, Paul Calhoon, plant superintendent, said.

Calhoon said the natural gas line was turned off and will be plugged and submitted to an air pressure test to determine if there is a break in the main.

The plant superintendent said he was unable to estimate the amount of pipe lost in the explosion, but some employees said it appeared that "several tons" were broken. Some of the piles "just crumpled," they added.

Four of the plant's 20 kilns were being fired when the gas was shut off and the plant was closed, adding to the damage, Calhoon said.

"There's a heck of a big crack in the ground," Calhoon added, and in other places the blasts raised the ground.

Calhoon said the plant was closed and the employes sent home because of the possibility of additional explosions. He explained the plant is located on fill

Kent St. Home Fire Damage Set At $5,000

Loss was estimated unofficially today at $5,000 after a fire blamed on an overheated furnace caused heavy damage Sunday morning to the interior of a two - story frame home at 926 Kent St. occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller and their grown son and daughter.

The fire started in the flooring immediately above the coal furnace and mushroomed throughout the cellar, firemen said. Following the heat runs, the blaze worked its way onto the first floor. It also followed the studding up both the west and east sides of the house and burst forth into the second floor.

Firemen were forced to chop a hole through one of the exterior walls to help quell the blaze. They also cut through the flooring on the ground floor of the home near a fire place which sits directly over the furnace.

There was extensive damage in the livingroom and the walls and floors were burned on the second floor, firemen reported. A burning mattress was hurled out of a bedroom window.

Virtually all of the furniture was carried out, however, by neighborhood volunteers after firemen had ventilated the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their son, Ralph Miller Jr., 24, and a daughter, Suzanne, 22, moved into an adjoining vacant home at 930 Kent St. which the older Millers also own.

Mrs. Miller, at home alone at the time, discovered the fire at about 11 a. m. She shouted to her daughter, Mrs. Roy Plant, 933 Kent St., to telephone the fire department, as there is no telephone in the Miller home.

The East End truck responded, along with a pumper from Central fire station, the squad car and the chief's car. Seven firemen fought the blaze for about 90 minutes. No one was hurt.

Heavy Rains Again Pound Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's sixth day of saturation started spectacularly today as cloudbursts opened up on parts of the Los Angeles area, creating lakes up to seven feet deep.

There were flash floods in the Hollywood Hills and a house at 2934 Beachwood Dr. was torn loose from its foundation and pushed into the street.

A woman at 6456 Deep Dell Place in the Hollywood Hills reported water was rushing through her living room.

At the intersection of Sunset Boulevard and Pacific Coast Highway early this morning the water was seven feet deep.

It was four feet deep on Vermont Avenue between 88th and 90th streets in Los Angeles. It was over the rooftops of automobiles at some other points.

The police flood control office said all major streets in the Hollywood area were awash.

More than 20 deaths had been

County Bank Robber Of '55 Loses Appeal

Drugging Claimed At Trial In Holdup At New Waterford

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Saturday denied the appeal of a bank robber who contends he was drugged at the time of his 1955 trial in Cleveland.

The appellant, John Raymond Malone, was convicted Sept. 12, 1955, of helping to rob the New Waterford, Ohio, Bank of $16,628. He was sentenced to 20 years in the federal penitentiary at Alcatraz.

The robbery occurred Nov. 24, 1954.

Malone appealed his conviction in 1957 on the grounds that the government allegedly forced witnesses to frame him at the trial. The appeal was denied.

On Sept. 13, 1960, Malone filed a new appeal, contending he hid 1.5 ounces of gum opium on his person while awaiting trial and that he was drugged and incapable

Demonstrations Slated

Police, Riot Units Alerted To New French Violence

PARIS (AP) — Thirty thousand police and riot forces stood by in the Paris region today as worried government officials girded for possible street clashes and other violence.

Security forces were concentrated to counter a banned demonstration scheduled for late afternoon on the vast Place de la Republique in eastern Paris. The French Socialist party called for a "peaceful but energetic" demonstration against the right-wing Secret Army Organization and against police repression of demonstrations last Thursday which left eight dead and hundreds injured.

The French Communist party quickly summoned its militants to join the Socialists "shoulder to shoulder" and other leftist organizations backed the demonstration call.

The government sternly recalled that all street demonstrations are banned under the state of urgency in effect in France since last April's abortive Algiers uprising. Interior Minister Roger Frey warned in a nationwide radio-TV speech that unless the demonstration organizers back down, the forces of order "will do their duty and prevent the demonstration."

Premier Michel Debre made an unusual visit to the Interior Ministry today to confer with law enforcement chiefs and to express the government's confidence in their ability to maintain order.

Storms May Again Delay Orbit Effort

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The worst sea conditions of the winter in the central Atlantic today cast doubt on whether astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. will make his scheduled orbital flight on Wednesday.

But National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials made no change in the date in hopes that the conditions might clear by launching time.

A weather advisory reported that winds of 35 knots were rolling up 10-foot waves today in an area between Bermuda and the central Atlantic — where Glenn's space capsule would land if the flight were terminated after one orbit.

An official said acceptable conditions are seas of no more than five feet and winds of 15 to 18 knots.

The advisory said that the storm which led to these "very disturbed" conditions was moving northward and was expected to moderate today.

"With the storm track in the Atlantic quite active for the first time this winter," the advisory continued, "periods of light winds and sea conditions will be relatively short but it may be possible to have conditions sufficiently quiet by the planned launch time."

Another less intense storm system was predicted for the same area Tuesday, but it should move out by Wednesday, NASA said.

Drivers Cited On Violations In 5 Crashes

Five Pennsylvania residents were injured slightly in two separate "accordion" type traffic crashes over the weekend in the district, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

Officers investigated a total of six crashes Saturday and Sunday and cited five drivers for violations.

Three Washington County women were injured in a three - car "chain" type collision Saturday morning at 9:30 on Route 30, a mile and a half south of the junction with Route 7.

The patrol said the drivers were Raymond L. Mundell, 32, of North Ridgeville, Andrew Mazeppa, 20, of Millsboro, Pa., and Domenico Mancino, 61, of Alliance.

All three cars were headed south. Mundell had halted for a disabled car ahead. His car was followed by Mazeppa and Mancino. Mazeppa stopped for the lead car, and was struck in the rear by Mancino, causing a "chain" type crash, the patrol said.

The three women were passengers in the auto operated by Mazeppa. They included Tressa Mazeppa, 45, who suffered a bump on the head; JoAnn Mazeppa, 22, abrasions of the lower right leg, and Helen Rankin, 61, who was shaken up. All three live in Millsboro.

The patrol said Mancino was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

A two-car crash at 4:10 p. m. Sunday on Route 14 alternate east of Washingtonville brought injury to a Beaver County couple.

The patrol said the east-bound car of Willard Brown, 58, of Beaver Falls struck the rear of the halted car of Edward Shaffer, 46, of Aliquippa.

Shaffer had halted for a third car driven by Thelma Cipullo of Wilkinsburg. Her vehicle was not struck.

Brown suffered a laceration of the forehead and Mrs. Grace Brown, 54, suffered a bump on the head. Brown was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Hazel Graham, 52, of Leetonia R. D. 2 was cited for failure to stop after an accident and driving left of center after her west-bound car and the east-bound auto of Victor Stanciu, 29, of Sebring sideswiped on a curve Saturday night at 7:30 near Washingtonville. Neither was injured.

Robert J. Dutcher, 27, of Salem was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance after his car rammed the rear of the auto of Guy R. Laib Jr., 35, of Youngstown Sunday at 5:05 p. m. on Route 14, about three miles west of Route 7.

Jane L. Masters, 45, of Canton was cited on a charge of failure to obey a traffic signal after a collision with the car of Emmet P. Craft, 36, of Cadiz Sunday at 4 p. m. in Kensington.

The patrol also investigated a crash involving drivers from Alliance and Paris Saturday at 1:45 p. m. near the Stark County line.

26 Per Cent Gain Shown In County Pupil Enrollment

The enrollment in Columbiana County schools gained 26.9 per cent in the 11 years since 1950, it was reported over the weekend in a survey made by the Ohio Education Association.

But from the standpoint of enrollment increases, the county ranks 66th in Ohio's 88 counties, the report said. The enrollment now is 22,947.

Lake County's schools outpaced all others with a 220.6 per cent gain, adding 22,101 pupils for a total of 32,119. Geauga County was fourth, Lorain, fifth, Medina, sixth, and Portage, ninth. Greene is second and Clermont was third.

Slowest growing county in the state was Adams on the Ohio River, which increased only 5.6 per cent in the 11 years. Enrollment there is 4,887.

The OEA said the statewide enrollment gain was 65 per cent. In the same period the population in was about 22 per cent. The population is 9.7 million (1960 census) and the enrollment 2.1 million.

Driver Faces Charge In Hookstown Mishap

An East Liverpool motorist will be cited for having no operator's license as an aftermath of a three-car accident Sunday about 5:45 p. m. at Laughlin's Corners, near Hookstown. No one was injured.

Joseph Bert Holmes, 23, of 233 Center St., will be cited, the Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said. Police said he was going north on Route 168, approaching the intersection of Route 30, could not stop and hit the rear of a car driven by Eugene T. Rumisek, 38, of Darlington R. D. 2, stopped at the intersection.

Police said the Rumisek car was pushed into a car parked at the intersection. Its driver was Clifford L. Gray, 40, of Hookstown R. D. 1.

Clevelander Watches Avalanche Kill Friend

KLOSTERS, Switzerland (AP)— A Cleveland Heights, Ohio, man, Robert Pojak, was only a few yards away when a series of avalanches swept a fellow-member of his ski club to his death Saturday.

Pojak, on a three-week skiing vacation, said he and other skiers probed for 45 minutes for Richard F. Muhl of Chicago, who was swept about 300 yards and buried under the snow. A professional rescue team finally located the body three hours after the avalanches.

Group Marks 'Elder's Day'

Approximately 145, representing 30 churches of the Steubenville Presbytery, attended an "Elder's Day" observance Sunday afternoon at the Toronto United Presbyterian Church, under the sponsorship of the Steubenville Presbytery's committee on evangelism.

The Rev. Edward C. Gartrell, minister of the Calvary Church in Butler, was the main speaker. His topic was "Evangelism in the Local Church — the Inactive Members."

Other features of the program were discussion groups on "The Inactive Members" and the presentations of three major committees of the Presbytery - national mission, Christian education and ministerial relations.

Supper was prepared and served by the women of the host church. The newly - elected elders were recognized by the Rev. George Jenkins of Carrollton, general presbyter.

The Rev. Thomas Clyde, pastor of the Calcutta church, was chairman. He opened the meeting with devotions.

Mrs. Sam McKinney gave details on a letter received from Fairview Grange asking for a delegate to a newly - formed committee to make collections throughout the year for needy families at Christmas.

Mrs. Frank Timblin directed a "Founders' Day" skit given by Mrs. John Carland, Mrs. Paul Brucker, Mrs. Melvin Land and Mrs. Homer Paul.

The attendance banner was won by Miss Nancy George's second grade. Mrs. Harry Craik, hostess, was assisted by the fourth grade mothers.

"Audio Visual Aids in the School" will be the topic of Donald Bradshaw at the next meeting March 8. Mrs. Robert Smith will be hostess, assisted by the third grade mothers.

The Executive Board will meet March 6 in the home of Mrs. George Kelly. Mrs. Garland, president, presided.

Driver Faces Charge In Hookstown Mishap

An East Liverpool motorist will be cited for having no operator's license as an aftermath of a three-car accident Sunday about 5:45 p. m. at Laughlin's Corners, near Hookstown. No one was injured.

Joseph Bert Holmes, 23, of 233 Center St., will be cited, the Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said. Police said he was going north on Route 168, approaching the intersection of Route 30, could not stop and hit the rear of a car driven by Eugene T. Rumisek, 38, of Darlington R. D. 2, stopped at the intersection.

Police said the Rumisek car was pushed into a car parked at the intersection. Its driver was Clifford L. Gray, 40, of Hookstown R. D. 1.

Clevelander Watches Avalanche Kill Friend

KLOSTERS, Switzerland (AP)— A Cleveland Heights, Ohio, man, Robert Pojak, was only a few yards away when a series of avalanches swept a fellow-member of his ski club to his death Saturday.

Pojak, on a three-week skiing vacation, said he and other skiers probed for 45 minutes for Richard F. Muhl of Chicago, who was swept about 300 yards and buried under the snow. A professional rescue team finally located the body three hours after the avalanches.

Group Marks 'Elder's Day'

Approximately 145, representing 30 churches of the Steubenville Presbytery, attended an "Elder's Day" observance Sunday afternoon at the Toronto United Presbyterian Church, under the sponsorship of the Steubenville Presbytery's committee on evangelism.

The Rev. Edward C. Gartrell, minister of the Calvary Church in Butler, was the main speaker. His topic was "Evangelism in the Local Church — the Inactive Members."

Other features of the program were discussion groups on "The Inactive Members" and the presentations of three major committees of the Presbytery - national mission, Christian education and ministerial relations.

Supper was prepared and served by the women of the host church. The newly - elected elders were recognized by the Rev. George Jenkins of Carrollton, general presbyter.

The Rev. Thomas Clyde, pastor of the Calcutta church, was chairman. He opened the meeting with devotions.

No Place For Politics

President Kennedy may think he has found a way out of the pressure cooker issue over ownership of a communications satellite system. He may split the difference.

Ever since King Solomon settled that ticklish case by threatening to cut a baby in half, politicians have been splitting the difference.

They ignore two things about the Solomonic precedent.

1. King Solomon only threatened to cut a baby in half in order to learn which of the claimants was the true mother; he never gave the order to start cutting.

2. In issues between right and wrong, there is no such thing as splitting a difference. There are no half-murders, no half-robberies, no half-felonies.

If the Kennedy administration splits the difference on satellite communications by throwing the system up for grabs by as many private owners as can muscle in on the proposition, it will have kept critics of American Telephone and Telegraph at bay. It will have appeased socialists eyeing this chance to clutch the throat of international communications in its newest form.

But these are only political considerations. They ignore the right way to set up a satellite communcations system.

The business at hand isn't politics. It is a workable system of satellite communication, which is something politicians and socialists know nothing about.

If the Kennedy administration really means to cut this communications baby in half to satisfy politics, it should be prepared to face a charge of double murder. Worse yet, it should be prepared for a charge of first-degree double murder, because a proposal to split up ownership of the system among as many interests as might be interested would be planned homicide. It would be a politician's settlement of a qestion too important to be settled by politicians.

Satellite communications engineers know no more about politics than politicians know about communications engineering—which is nothing. The way to get a system started is to turn it over to the engineers who have done the work so far and let them beat the competition, lest the United States end up in second place to the Soviet Union again.

This We Would Have To See

One of the persuasive arguments that is supposed to bowl over opposition to federal aid for private and parochial schools, whether elementary, secondary or advanced, is that federal money would be spent only for the physical plant and therefore it wouldn't be the same as using federal money for classroom education.

In the case of parochial schools, in other words, the federal money would not be used for the inculcation of religion, which it is conceded would be contrary to the doctrine of keeping church and state separated. It would be used only for buildings in which religious could be inculcated into students.

Is there actually any financial invention that could keep federal money from being used for inculcating religion in a school that made a practice of inculcating religion? If so, we'd have to see a working model to believe it.

To be sure, a check from Washington could be endorsed over to a separate fund for construction only. Every conceivable precaution could be taken to keep the federal money from trickling into the hands or pockets of anyone connected with religious inculcation.

But is anyone ingenuous enough to believe this wouldn't aid the institutions that received it, just as truly as it would aid schools where religious inculcation was not a sensitive point? After all, aid is not given to buildings; it is given to schools.

The absurdity of thinking federal money could be earmarked and kept in quarantine is the second-best argument for ditching the whole idea of federal aid. The best argument is that it would destroy local aid—and even the profligate federal government is in no position to bear the entire cost of the nation's vast educational system.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: One subject bobs up all the time in letters to the editor. It bobbed up in one that appeared in your paper a few days ago:

Make woman employes go home so men can have their jobs.

Whenever I run across this gem I wonder what the letter writer has in mind.

Would the writer send home all the women school teachers so their jobs could be turned over to men, some of whom would be their former pupils who dropped out of school because they lacked aptitude for book learning?

Would it be the idea to replace all the women who do the kind of factory work that requires nimble fingers so men could fill the jobs on a catch-as-catch-can basis?

And if any part of the idea is to do something about unemployed men, what would the people who write the letters do about unemployed women — or don't unemployed women count?

I never heard of an employer who hired women because he was a masher or interested only in giving the girls a break. Employers hire women because they are qualified in one way or another than men.

It's the old battle between the sexes — waged on the economic front. And we might as well face up to the fact that men are taking a beating.

Do you want to know my prediction?

I'll tell you anyway.

Women are going to come out of this the winners and the new champions. Automation is going to speed up what already is in motion — a new kind of society in which women will hold most of the jobs. They already hold 40 per cent of them in this country.

Men will have more leisure than they bargained for when they began to dream about a day off to go fishing and hunting. They will be like the original Americans, who let the squaws do all the work while they fished, hunted and taught little Indian boys how to kill palefaces and track game.

It's going to be a shock. But in the kind of a world we're going to live in there will be a premium for the qualities women are most noted for — dexterity, patience, stability, loyalty, nimbleness of mind, steadfastness of purpose and gratitude for a chance to be useful. Men will have to face up to their shortcomings.

I am uniquely qualified to talk about this because I was displaced 10 years ago, or rather I saw it coming and stepped aside. Ever since, I have been happy and contented. Your kindly old Aunt Effie always was a she-bearcat for work — much better at it than I ever was. So I indulge her; I encourage her to make herself happy with toil.

This is the way it will be. I feel sorry for people who yearn for something they never will see again — all the men hard at work while the women stay home and perform household drudgery, with time out for babies.

The wave of the future is a permanent wave, bub, and take it from me it isn't bad when you get used to it. But please don't show this to your missus. I sometimes think she regards me as a disreputable windbag anyway.

Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mortimer Topblower says he is looking for an unfriendly bank. At least for one that is just so-so in affability. Friendship is getting top emphasis in banks all over world, to a point where a fellow isn't certain whether he is being asked to bring his money to a bank, goodwill center, a convention of the "Let a Little Sunshine in Society," or a "Solar Hearing Exhibition."

"The impression is being created that a bank's first requirement is a big smile, liberally festooned with tropical handshakes, slaps on the back and hi-fi music," says Mortimer.

"I get the idea from commercials that there ain't a man in the bank not anxious to sit down with you for a nice, long casual discussion of whatever is on your mind, before mentioning money.

"You would almost think a bank was a combination of a social hall, picnic park and ballroom. I am surprised that I don't hear appeals to come in and enjoy a bank which has classes in physical training, weight reduction and the 'Twist'."

He says he wants a bank which has a chilly atmosphere and a commercial with this appeal: "All we do is take care of your money. The president is stiff and hard to like. You will have to keep trying. The chairman of the board was known in college as "Old Frozen Face," and now has an alternate name "Chilly Billy." He isn't liked very much even in his own home.

"Our treasurer has all the charm of a Polar Bear that hasn't caught a fish in months. His motto 'Make it snappy.' He wants no part of folks who drop in for a long chat by a blazing fireplace with free lunch. Small talk murders him. He won't ask you if you dance, play gin rummy or prefer checkers. But they're all capable and efficient.

"Yes, this is just a bank that looks like a bank all over. It resembles a fortress. It will force no money on you. It's simply a bank emphasizing thrift, caution, sound advice and a yen to get to the point, understand what you want and do what it thinks reasonable.

(He is having no luck. Every bank is guaranteeing love, kindness, free dishes, easy money and a discussion of the baseball scores, he says.)

Something For Nothing?

How Big Is Too Big?

By Raymond Moley

Sen. Harry F. Byrd's, D. Va., analysis of the new budget figures shows that the proposed increases for military purposes, foreign aid, and space exploration amount in all to $2.8 billion. The rise in the cost of the national debt will be $400 million.

But towering above the foregoing increases, which may well be necessary, there are proposed increases of $3.5 billion in spending for 400 purely civil agencies, programs, and projects. We may add to that increased outlay of $1.1 billion from so-called trust funds.

The cost of domestic items in the federal government therefore will increase $4.6 billion. This is more than three times as much as the increases in military spending.

It is also $1.8 billion more than increases for the military, foreign aid, and space exploration combined.

There is also an item for raising the pay of government officials, a very large part of which goes to the civilian bureaucracy. This is $200 million.

Congress has permitted this monstrous bureaucracy to grow, with little consideration of the plain fact that as the size of a centralized government establishment grows, it becomes progressively less efficient and thus more costly in proportion to the services it renders to the people of the country.

In 1954 President Eisenhower brought this fact to the attention of the Council of State Governors and later of Congress. Accordingly, there was created a Commission on Intergovernmental Relations consisting of 25 members.

THIS COMMISSION conducted some very useful studies into the question of redistributing some of the federal activities to the state and local governments. To a large extent, the useful recommendations of the commission have been ignored by Congress.

George C. S. Benson, president of Claremont Men's College, was research director of the commission, and after his experience there he brought about the organization of a group of students of government and economics in a new Institute for Studies in Federalism at his college.

The purpose was to examine the problem of centralization versus decentralization in an atmosphere detached from politics and bureaucratic ambitions and jealousies.

One of these, by Prof. Procter Thompson, bears upon the question of the limits of efficiency as the size of a government increases. Prof. Thompson states a number of most interesting considerations bearing upon losses and gains in efficiency as a government's administration increases.

THERE ARE, he admits, certain advantages in large size. But these are checked and overbalanced as a bureaucracy grows. A number of the reasons for the decline in efficiency I would summarize as follows:

1. As the size of a government, or a department of bureau thereof, and the variety of its activities multiply, the directing head has less and less time to give to each of these activities and to provide decisions and direction.

2. When, as in Eisenhower's time, the concept of a chain of command is established (on paper at least), the directive force from the top declines as it passes through the various subordinate parts. There is, to use a phrase in the electrical industry, a "line loss" in the chain of command.

3. The number of people in the bureaucracy multiplies because of the addition of supervisors and liaison people among the parts.

4. As Parkinson says, the capacity of a bureaucracy to invent new activities is without limit and new activities require still more bureaucrats.

5. Wasteful feuds multiply among various bureaus and departments dealing with the same subject.

6. As the federal activities grow, they are geographically scattered among the states and local areas of the nation. This again weakens the capacity of Washington competently to supervise them.

Altogether, as Thompson says, these defects in administrative efficiency appear in business establishments as well as government.

But, he concludes, "the advantages of large-scale operations are far less considerable in public rather than private organizations and the disadvantages are common to both."

Letters To The Editor

I see by the paper that the Police Department is asking for a raise. I say, give it to them. They deserve it for a job well done.

On two different occasions last week I needed their services and the promptness and efficiency of these men are unexcelled in my estimation and their efforts should not go unrewarded.

When I see a policeman's check for a month and a millworker's for two weeks and they are for the same amount then I say the law man deserves more money.

We expect for them to be exemplary citizens, yet pay them less than trash collectors.

However, I am not in favor of renewing the controversial wage tax. The public has made it perfectly clear that they are not in favor of this additional taxation. This is mostly because of the way it was "crammed down their throats" and also because of the lack of the show of any results from the thousands of dollars already collected.

They wonder where all of that money went.

Our town has been running along for about 120 years without a wage tax. Why is it so urgently necessary now?

Our national economy would be in grave jeopardy if every time someone needed a new car, home or appliance if they had to take on another job to pay for it.

Instead, it's merely a matter of budgeting one's finances properly and making do with what they have to do with.

We have a good police force, let's keep it that way. We can't afford to lose these brave, well-trained men to private industry.

Mr. K Does The Twist

By James Marlow

Red Premier Betters 'Good Guy' Image

WASHINGTON

Premier Khrushchev is like a watchmaker overdoing a dance. He has excellent timing but too much twist.

The latest twist is in the report of his newest proposal: an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament next month.

He'd probably be more surprised than anyone if President Kennedy accepted. But, from his view, this is a good time to suggest it.

That's because he can handle foreign affairs like a TV Western where everyone is either a good guy or a bad one. Sometimes he acts like a bad guy. Then he tries to make up for it.

He was very much the bad guy outside Russia last September when he suddenly resumed nuclear testing. He got bad notices around the world and has been playing nice most of the time since.

Over the weekend he put on the good guy's hat again by releasing the American spy, U2 flier Francis Gary Powers. Moscow did not announce it was just swapping him for a Soviet spy caught here, Col. Rudolf Abel.

Abel, jailed here since 1957, was under 30-years sentence. Powers, brought down over Russia May 1, 1960, got 10 years.

Neither man, after the initial publicity in each case, was worth anything to the country holding him. The U2 flights are ended and Abel is washed up as a spy.

But Khrushchev got worldwide publicity out of it and doubled his good guy bet by proposing the summit meeting, knowing beforehand that Kennedy, having taken the position there should be no summit meeting unless the two sides show more evidence of agreeing than they have so far, would almost certainly say no.

If Kennedy should then resume nuclear testing, unless he feels Khrushchev has now maneuvered him into a bad spot for resuming, the Russian can hope some of the bad public reaction would rub off on the President.

All of this goes to show the Khrushchev twist, which has been something to watch.

All the disarmament talks since World War II have gotten nowhere—as have talks on nuclear testing between the United States, Britain and Russia. They began negotiations on testing 39 months ago in Geneva. From then until last September no one tested.

Kennedy was under pressure from some of his advisers, since the talks accomplished nothing, to resume testing. He did not. But Khrushchev was practicing one of his twists. The Russians for months had been secretly preparing to test.

When they were ready, on Aug. 31, 1961, Khrushchev suddenly announced in the midst of the talks that the tests would start. They did the next day. The talks collapsed Sept. 8.

There had been two big stumbling blocks: the West wanted an inspection system—which the Russians called spying — to prevent cheating and the Russians kept insisting test ban talks should be part of general disarmament talks.

Khrushchev then tried something he knew the West wouldn't buy at all. He said if he agreed to an inspection system, the West must agree to letting Russia have a veto. In other words: no inspection.

After Russia resumed testing, the United States and Britain called on him to agree to a non-inspected test ban. The answer: no. He said the main thing is general disarmament, not just a test ban.

After the Russian tests last fall, the three powers resumed their test ban talks. Now the West offered to go along with Khrushchev and let the test ban talks become part of general disarmament talks.

Khrushchev twisted again. Now he said he didn't want the test ban talks thrown in with the disarmament talks, even though that is what he had said he wanted and an 18-nation disarmament session had been arranged for March 14 in Geneva.

The United States and Britain then broke off the test ban talks Jan. 29. Pressure at home on Kennedy to resume testing increased. Last week he seemed on the verge of a go-ahead.

Then, hoping for something to come out of the disarmament talks next month, the President suggested to Khrushchev that the foreign ministers of the 18 nations, not just their specialists, should do the negotiating.

Now Khrushchev, doubling his bet on the publicity he got from releasing Powers, practically called the foreign ministers nobodies and suggests that only the top men meeting at the summit can do anything.

The Vanishing Surplus

By Joseph R. Slevin

President Kennedy's "modest" budget surplus is beginning to look more like a budget deficit.

The chief executive predicted a $500 million surplus when he sent his budget to Congress. A fresh check of the evidence suggests that a $500 million deficit is more likely.

The big change is in the revenue side of the ledger. It now looks as though tax receipts may be roughly $1 billion smaller than Mr. Kennedy predicted.

The President forecast a surplus because he expected that tax collections would jump to a record-breaking total of $93 billion while spending would climb to a peacetime high of $92.5 billion.

But current indications are that tax collections will come closer to $92 billion than to $93 billion —and that means that there is a better chance of a $500 million deficit than of a $500 million surplus.

It's still pretty much a statistical guessing game at this point, for the forecasters are attempting to pinpoint the revenues for fiscal 1963, the year that will end on June 30, 1963.

THEY WERE TRYING to look 18 months into the future when the budget went to the printers in early January, and they are trying to look 17 months ahead now.

The time gap is a formidable obstacle and budget revenue forecasts have been notoriously inaccurate.

Administration experts recently ran a check of presidential revenue predictions for the past eight years. They discovered that the annual forecasts missed the actual collection totals by an average of $4.5 billion.

There are two important reasons why Mr. Kennedy's $93 billion revenue forecast now looks overly optimistic.

One is that the House Ways and Means Committee tentatively has approved a major tax revision bill that will chop $500 million from government revenues in fiscal 1963.

The other is that an additional $400 million to $600 million of revenue will be lost as the net result of more generous depreciation allowances that the Treasury plans to adopt by administrative action.

The President didn't allow for either the tax bill or the administrative concessions in the budget estimates that he laid before Congress last month.

The Ways and Means Committee bill provides for giving businessmen an 8 per cent investment credit that will slash $1.8 billion from tax collections. The credit is supposed to stimulate business activity by encouraging businessmen to purchase new productive equipment.

ABOUT $1.3 BILLION of the tax loss will be offset by "loophole" closing provisions and by large revenues that are expected to flow from the higher activity that will result from the tax credit.

The chief "loophole" clause would impose a 20 per cent withholding tax on dividend and interest payments. Others would crack-down on business entertainment deductions, tighten up the capital gains treatment of sales of depreciated property, substantially boost the levy on mutual savings institutions and impose new taxes on individual and corporate overseas income.

While the tax bill will cost the Treasury about $500 million next year, fiscal experts estimate that it will yield more revenue than it will lose in fiscal 1964 and even larger surpluses in later years. The explanation is that some of the bill's provisions will have a delayed impact while others will take effect over a period of years.

The administrative change that will cost the Treasury a net of $400 million to $600 million is a revision of the Department's Bulletin F — the document that sets out the rates at which different industries may take depreciation deductions on plant and equipment.

The textile industry has been given at 40 per cent concession and the changes for other industries are expected to average better than half of the textile liberalization.

But the final word on Mr. Kennedy's fiscal 1963 surplus or deficit will not be written until June 30, 1963.

No Place For Politics

President Kennedy may think he has found a way out of the pressure cooker issue over ownership of a communications satellite system. He may split the difference.

Ever since King Solomon settled that ticklish case by threatening to cut a baby in half, politicians have been splitting the difference.

They ignore two things about the Solomonic precedent.

1. King Solomon only threatened to cut a baby in half in order to learn which of the claimants was the true mother; he never gave the order to start cutting.

2. In issues between right and wrong, there is no such thing as splitting a difference. There are no half-murders, no half-robberies, no half-felonies.

If the Kennedy administration splits the difference on satellite communications by throwing the system up for grabs by as many private owners as can muscle in on the proposition, it will have kept critics of American Telephone and Telegraph at bay. It will have appeased socialists eyeing this chance to clutch the throat of international communications in its newest form.

But these are only political considerations. They ignore the right way to set up a satellite communcations system.

The business at hand isn't politics. It is a workable system of satellite communication, which is something politicians and socialists know nothing about.

If the Kennedy administration really means to cut this communications baby in half to satisfy politics, it should be prepared to face a charge of double murder. Worse yet, it should be prepared for a charge of first-degree double murder, because a proposal to split up ownership of the system among as many interests as might be interested would be planned homicide. It would be a politician's settlement of a qestion too important to be settled by politicians.

Satellite communications engineers know no more about politics than politicians know about communications engineering—which is nothing. The way to get a system started is to turn it over to the engineers who have done the work so far and let them beat the competition, lest the United States end up in second place to the Soviet Union again.

This We Would Have To See

One of the persuasive arguments that is supposed to bowl over opposition to federal aid for private and parochial schools, whether elementary, secondary or advanced, is that federal money would be spent only for the physical plant and therefore it wouldn't be the same as using federal money for classroom education.

In the case of parochial schools, in other words, the federal money would not be used for the inculcation of religion, which it is conceded would be contrary to the doctrine of keeping church and state separated. It would be used only for buildings in which religious could be inculcated into students.

Is there actually any financial invention that could keep federal money from being used for inculcating religion in a school that made a practice of inculcating religion? If so, we'd have to see a working model to believe it.

To be sure, a check from Washington could be endorsed over to a separate fund for construction only. Every conceivable precaution could be taken to keep the federal money from trickling into the hands or pockets of anyone connected with religious inculcation.

But is anyone ingenuous enough to believe this wouldn't aid the institutions that received it, just as truly as it would aid schools where religious inculcation was not a sensitive point? After all, aid is not given to buildings; it is given to schools.

The absurdity of thinking federal money could be earmarked and kept in quarantine is the second-best argument for ditching the whole idea of federal aid. The best argument is that it would destroy local aid—and even the profligate federal government is in no position to bear the entire cost of the nation's vast educational system.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: One subject bobs up all the time in letters to the editor. It bobbed up in one that appeared in your paper a few days ago:

Make woman employes go home so men can have their jobs.

Whenever I run across this gem I wonder what the letter writer has in mind.

Would the writer send home all the women school teachers so their jobs could be turned over to men, some of whom would be their former pupils who dropped out of school because they lacked aptitude for book learning?

Would it be the idea to replace all the women who do the kind of factory work that requires nimble fingers so men could fill the jobs on a catch-as-catch-can basis?

And if any part of the idea is to do something about unemployed men, what would the people who write the letters do about unemployed women — or don't unemployed women count?

I never heard of an employer who hired women because he was a masher or interested only in giving the girls a break. Employers hire women because they are qualified in one way or another than men.

It's the old battle between the sexes — waged on the economic front. And we might as well face up to the fact that men are taking a beating.

Do you want to know my prediction?

I'll tell you anyway.

Women are going to come out of this the winners and the new champions. Automation is going to speed up what already is in motion — a new kind of society in which women will hold most of the jobs. They already hold 40 per cent of them in this country.

Men will have more leisure than they bargained for when they began to dream about a day off to go fishing and hunting. They will be like the original Americans, who let the squaws do all the work while they fished, hunted and taught little Indian boys how to kill palefaces and track game.

It's going to be a shock. But in the kind of a world we're going to live in there will be a premium for the qualities women are most noted for — dexterity, patience, stability, loyalty, nimbleness of mind, steadfastness of purpose and gratitude for a chance to be useful. Men will have to face up to their shortcomings.

I am uniquely qualified to talk about this because I was displaced 10 years ago, or rather I saw it coming and stepped aside. Ever since, I have been happy and contented. Your kindly old Aunt Effie always was a she-bearcat for work — much better at it than I ever was. So I indulge her; I encourage her to make herself happy with toil.

This is the way it will be. I feel sorry for people who yearn for something they never will see again — all the men hard at work while the women stay home and perform household drudgery, with time out for babies.

The wave of the future is a permanent wave, bub, and take it from me it isn't bad when you get used to it. But please don't show this to your missus. I sometimes think she regards me as a disreputable windbag anyway.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mortimer Topblower says he is looking for an unfriendly bank. At least for one that is just so-so in affability. Friendship is getting top emphasis in banks all over world, to a point where a fellow isn't certain whether he is being asked to bring his money to a bank, goodwill center, a convention of the "Let a Little Sunshine in Society," or a "Solar Hearing Exhibition."

"The impression is being created that a bank's first requirement is a big smile, liberally festooned with tropical handshakes, slaps on the back and hi-fi music," says Mortimer.

"I get the idea from commercials that there ain't a man in the bank not anxious to sit down with you for a nice, long casual discussion of whatever is on your mind, before mentioning money.

"You would almost think a bank was a combination of a social hall, picnic park and ballroom. I am surprised that I don't hear appeals to come in and enjoy a bank which has classes in physical training, weight reduction and the 'Twist'."

He says he wants a bank which has a chilly atmosphere and a commercial with this appeal: "All we do is take care of your money. The president is stiff and hard to like. You will have to keep trying. The chairman of the board was known in college as "Old Frozen Face," and now has an alternate name "Chilly Billy." He isn't liked very much even in his own home.

"Our treasurer has all the charm of a Polar Bear that hasn't caught a fish in months. His motto 'Make it snappy.' He wants no part of folks who drop in for a long chat by a blazing fireplace with free lunch. Small talk murders him. He won't ask you if you dance, play gin rummy or prefer checkers. But they're all capable and efficient.

"Yes, this is just a bank that looks like a bank all over. It resembles a fortress. It will force no money on you. It's simply a bank emphasizing thrift, caution, sound advice and a yen to get to the point, understand what you want and do what it thinks reasonable.

(He is having no luck. Every bank is guaranteeing love, kindness, free dishes, easy money and a discussion of the baseball scores, he says.)

Something For Nothing?

By Raymond Moley

Sen. Harry F. Byrd's, D. Va., analysis of the new budget figures shows that the proposed increases for military purposes, foreign aid, and space exploration amount in all to $2.8 billion. The rise in the cost of the national debt will be $400 million.

But towering above the foregoing increases, which may well be necessary, there are proposed increases of $3.5 billion in spending for 400 purely civil agencies, programs, and projects. We may add to that increased outlay of $1.1 billion from so-called trust funds.

The cost of domestic items in the federal government therefore will increase $4.6 billion. This is more than three times as much as the increases in military spending.

It is also $1.8 billion more than increases for the military, foreign aid, and space exploration combined.

There is also an item for raising the pay of government officials, a very large part of which goes to the civilian bureaucracy. This is $200 million.

Congress has permitted this monstrous bureaucracy to grow, with little consideration of the plain fact that as the size of a centralized government establishment grows, it becomes progressively less efficient and thus more costly in proportion to the services it renders to the people of the country.

In 1954 President Eisenhower brought this fact to the attention of the Council of State Governors and later of Congress. Accordingly, there was created a Commission on Intergovernmental Relations consisting of 25 members.

THIS COMMISSION conducted some very useful studies into the question of redistributing some of the federal activities to the state and local governments. To a large extent, the useful recommendations of the commission have been ignored by Congress.

George C. S. Benson, president of Claremont Men's College, was research director of the commission, and after his experience there he brought about the organization of a group of students of government and economics in a new Institute for Studies in Federalism at his college.

The purpose was to examine the problem of centralization versus decentralization in an atmosphere detached from politics and bureaucratic ambitions and jealousies.

One of these, by Prof. Procter Thompson, bears upon the question of the limits of efficiency as the size of a government increases. Prof. Thompson states a number of most interesting considerations bearing upon losses and gains in efficiency as a government's administration increases.

THERE ARE, he admits, certain advantages in large size. But these are checked and overbalanced as a bureaucracy grows. A number of the reasons for the decline in efficiency I would summarize as follows:

1. As the size of a government, or a department of bureau thereof, and the variety of its activities multiply, the directing head has less and less time to give to each of these activities and to provide decisions and direction.

2. When, as in Eisenhower's time, the concept of a chain of command is established (on paper at least), the directive force from the top declines as it passes through the various subordinate parts. There is, to use a phrase in the electrical industry, a "line loss" in the chain of command.

3. The number of people in the bureaucracy multiplies because of the addition of supervisors and liaison people among the parts.

4. As Parkinson says, the capacity of a bureaucracy to invent new activities is without limit and new activities require still more bureaucrats.

5. Wasteful feuds multiply among various bureaus and departments dealing with the same subject.

6. As the federal activities grow, they are geographically scattered among the states and local areas of the nation. This again weakens the capacity of Washington competently to supervise them.

Altogether, as Thompson says, these defects in administrative efficiency appear in business establishments as well as government.

But, he concludes, "the advantages of large-scale operations are far less considerable in public rather than private organizations and the disadvantages are common to both."

Letters To The Editor

I see by the paper that the Police Department is asking for a raise. I say, give it to them. They deserve it for a job well done.

On two different occasions last week I needed their services and the promptness and efficiency of these men are unexcelled in my estimation and their efforts should not go unrewarded.

When I see a policeman's check for a month and a millworker's for two weeks and they are for the same amount then I say the law man deserves more money.

We expect for them to be exemplary citizens, yet pay them less than trash collectors.

However, I am not in favor of renewing the controversial wage tax. The public has made it perfectly clear that they are not in favor of this additional taxation. This is mostly because of the way it was "crammed down their throats" and also because of the lack of the show of any results from the thousands of dollars already collected.

They wonder where all of that money went.

Our town has been running along for about 120 years without a wage tax. Why is it so urgently necessary now?

Our national economy would be in grave jeopardy if every time someone needed a new car, home or appliance if they had to take on another job to pay for it.

Instead, it's merely a matter of budgeting one's finances properly and making do with what they have to do with.

We have a good police force, let's keep it that way. We can't afford to lose these brave, well-trained men to private industry.

Mr. K Does The Twist

By James Marlow

Red Premier Betters 'Good Guy' Image

WASHINGTON

Premier Khrushchev is like a watchmaker overdoing a dance. He has excellent timing but too much twist.

The latest twist is in the report of his newest proposal: an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament next month.

He'd probably be more surprised than anyone if President Kennedy accepted. But, from his view, this is a good time to suggest it.

That's because he can handle foreign affairs like a TV Western where everyone is either a good guy or a bad one. Sometimes he acts like a bad guy. Then he tries to make up for it.

He was very much the bad guy outside Russia last September when he suddenly resumed nuclear testing. He got bad notices around the world and has been playing nice most of the time since.

Over the weekend he put on the good guy's hat again by releasing the American spy, U2 flier Francis Gary Powers. Moscow did not announce it was just swapping him for a Soviet spy caught here, Col. Rudolf Abel.

Abel, jailed here since 1957, was under 30-years sentence. Powers, brought down over Russia May 1, 1960, got 10 years.

Neither man, after the initial publicity in each case, was worth anything to the country holding him. The U2 flights are ended and Abel is washed up as a spy.

But Khrushchev got worldwide publicity out of it and doubled his good guy bet by proposing the summit meeting, knowing beforehand that Kennedy, having taken the position there should be no summit meeting unless the two sides show more evidence of agreeing than they have so far, would almost certainly say no.

If Kennedy should then resume nuclear testing, unless he feels Khrushchev has now maneuvered him into a bad spot for resuming, the Russian can hope some of the bad public reaction would rub off on the President.

All of this goes to show the Khrushchev twist, which has been something to watch.

All the disarmament talks since World War II have gotten nowhere—as have talks on nuclear testing between the United States, Britain and Russia. They began negotiations on testing 39 months ago in Geneva. From then until last September no one tested.

Kennedy was under pressure from some of his advisers, since the talks accomplished nothing, to resume testing. He did not. But Khrushchev was practicing one of his twists. The Russians for months had been secretly preparing to test.

When they were ready, on Aug. 31, 1961, Khrushchev suddenly announced in the midst of the talks that the tests would start. They did the next day. The talks collapsed Sept. 8.

There had been two big stumbling blocks: the West wanted an inspection system—which the Russians called spying — to prevent cheating and the Russians kept insisting test ban talks should be part of general disarmament talks.

Khrushchev then tried something he knew the West wouldn't buy at all. He said if he agreed to an inspection system, the West must agree to letting Russia have a veto. In other words: no inspection.

After Russia resumed testing, the United States and Britain called on him to agree to a non-inspected test ban. The answer: no. He said the main thing is general disarmament, not just a test ban.

After the Russian tests last fall, the three powers resumed their test ban talks. Now the West offered to go along with Khrushchev and let the test ban talks become part of general disarmament talks.

Khrushchev twisted again. Now he said he didn't want the test ban talks thrown in with the disarmament talks, even though that is what he had said he wanted and an 18-nation disarmament session had been arranged for March 14 in Geneva.

The United States and Britain then broke off the test ban talks Jan. 29. Pressure at home on Kennedy to resume testing increased. Last week he seemed on the verge of a go-ahead.

Then, hoping for something to come out of the disarmament talks next month, the President suggested to Khrushchev that the foreign ministers of the 18 nations, not just their specialists, should do the negotiating.

Now Khrushchev, doubling his bet on the publicity he got from releasing Powers, practically called the foreign ministers nobodies and suggests that only the top men meeting at the summit can do anything.

The Vanishing Surplus

By Joseph R. Slevin

President Kennedy's "modest" budget surplus is beginning to look more like a budget deficit.

The chief executive predicted a $500 million surplus when he sent his budget to Congress. A fresh check of the evidence suggests that a $500 million deficit is more likely.

The big change is in the revenue side of the ledger. It now looks as though tax receipts may be roughly $1 billion smaller than Mr. Kennedy predicted.

The President forecast a surplus because he expected that tax collections would jump to a record-breaking total of $93 billion while spending would climb to a peacetime high of $92.5 billion.

But current indications are that tax collections will come closer to $92 billion than to $93 billion —and that means that there is a better chance of a $500 million deficit than of a $500 million surplus.

It's still pretty much a statistical guessing game at this point, for the forecasters are attempting to pinpoint the revenues for fiscal 1963, the year that will end on June 30, 1963.

THEY WERE TRYING to look 18 months into the future when the budget went to the printers in early January, and they are trying to look 17 months ahead now.

The time gap is a formidable obstacle and budget revenue forecasts have been notoriously inaccurate.

Administration experts recently ran a check of presidential revenue predictions for the past eight years. They discovered that the annual forecasts missed the actual collection totals by an average of $4.5 billion.

There are two important reasons why Mr. Kennedy's $93 billion revenue forecast now looks overly optimistic.

One is that the House Ways and Means Committee tentatively has approved a major tax revision bill that will chop $500 million from government revenues in fiscal 1963.

The other is that an additional $400 million to $600 million of revenue will be lost as the net result of more generous depreciation allowances that the Treasury plans to adopt by administrative action.

The President didn't allow for either the tax bill or the administrative concessions in the budget estimates that he laid before Congress last month.

The Ways and Means Committee bill provides for giving businessmen an 8 per cent investment credit that will slash $1.8 billion from tax collections. The credit is supposed to stimulate business activity by encouraging businessmen to purchase new productive equipment.

ABOUT $1.3 BILLION of the tax loss will be offset by "loophole" closing provisions and by large revenues that are expected to flow from the higher activity that will result from the tax credit.

The chief "loophole" clause would impose a 20 per cent withholding tax on dividend and interest payments. Others would crack-down on business entertainment deductions, tighten up the capital gains treatment of sales of depreciated property, substantially boost the levy on mutual savings institutions and impose new taxes on individual and corporate overseas income.

While the tax bill will cost the Treasury about $500 million next year, fiscal experts estimate that it will yield more revenue than it will lose in fiscal 1964 and even larger surpluses in later years. The explanation is that some of the bill's provisions will have a delayed impact while others will take effect over a period of years.

The administrative change that will cost the Treasury a net of $400 million to $600 million is a revision of the Department's Bulletin F — the document that sets out the rates at which different industries may take depreciation deductions on plant and equipment.

The textile industry has been given at 40 per cent concession and the changes for other industries are expected to average better than half of the textile liberalization.

But the final word on Mr. Kennedy's fiscal 1963 surplus or deficit will not be written until June 30, 1963.

Cickelli Aide Found Guilty

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Trumbull County authorities now have obtained two convictions in connection with an alleged shakedown of contractors on the $4.5 million Warren sewer project.

The latest conviction was returned by a common pleas court jury Sunday against Paul LaMonge, 48, of Niles, accused by the state of acting as the agent of county Democratic Chairman Frank A. Cickelli in contacts with the contractors.

The jury delbierated 12 hours before finding LaMonge guilty of using threats to try to extort $200,000 from Eugene Brady of the Boam Construction Co., Livonia, Mich. The jury also found him guilty of larceny of $10,000 by trick.

LaMonge was acquitted of a third count charging him with trying to extort $200,000 from Al Cicchini of the Rocco Ferrera Construction Co., also of Livonia, Mich. The two firms hold contracts for the sewer project.

Cickelli was convicted in an earlier trial on bribery charges and is free on bond pending appeal. Three former Warren councilmen have pleaded guilty to bribery charges and now are in prison.

Of the seven persons indicted by the grand jury which investigated the sewer project last fall, two still await trial. They are James Soda, president of Soda-Luscher Construction Co. of Niles, and James Matash, professional bondsman, of Warren.

LaMonge faces a possible 5-30 year sentence on the extortion charge and 1-7 years on the larceny by trick charge.

Auto's Plunge Hurts Woman

An elderly Pennsylvania woman is in "fairly good" condition today in City Hospital with injuries suffered when the auto in which she was a passenger slid over a hill Sunday afternoon on Route 30 near the West Virginia state line.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies in New Cumberland said the mishap happened at 5:45 a half-mile east of the West Virginia line.

Deputies said the driver told them she lost control as she attempted to drive along the side of the highway on ashes, apparently in an attempt to gain traction off the snow-covered road.

Deputies did not make a full investigation because the accident occurred in Pennsylvania. The Carnegie Barracks of Pennsylvania State Police arrived at the scene later, but the car had been towed to a garage.

District Session Of Firemen Gets Various Reports

Recommendations which may be submitted to the state convention, along with reports on wages and working conditions and information on pension laws, were given at the meeting of the 6th District of the Ohio Association of Fire Fighters Saturday afternoon at the Eagles Lodge hall.

The reports on wages and working conditions were submitted from the various departments in the district. They included East Liverpool, Salem, Steubenville, Youngstown, Warren, Canton, Massillon, Girard, Niles and New Philadelphia.

Information on the pension law was outlined by George Mist of Canton, state legislative president.

Some 115 attended the meeting, at which greetings were extended by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and Frank Shone, president of Local 24, which was host to the session.

Dan Eberhart of Youngstown, district president, presided. The invocation was offered by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Local 24 was host at a dinner for the visitors and guests following the meeting.

Peruvians Hear Graham Preach

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Billy Graham preached to 15,000 Peruvians in a bull ring Sunday night and afterward hundreds came forward in answer to his call to make "decisions for Christ."

The American evangelist referred to the current Peruvian election campaign and said he had sensed some of the Latin American enthusiasm for politics.

"Why not give the same enthusiasm to a renewal of faith in Christ?" he asked.

"No one knows when Christ will return, but one thing is sure: The last word on this world will be spoken by Christ and not man."

The mayor of Graham's home town, Stanford Brookshire of Charlotte, N.C., attended the service with a delegation of 25 business leaders and officials who are on a good-will mission to Peru.

Coin Containers Yield $275 In 'Dimes' Drive

Jack Hales, city chairman, said today $275.35 was realized from the March of Dimes coin cannisters which were collected Saturday from East Liverpool business places.

He said this includes $36.50 from a "dime board" at the Head Pin Bowling Lanes on Mulberry St. The incomplete total now stands at $3,500, Hales said. He said there still is money coming in from various phases of the drive. The total includes money realized from the Mothers March, the cannisters, schools and activities of veteran groups.

Hales said he has not yet received a report on the special gifts.

County Residents File Bankruptcy Petitions

Petitions in bankruptcy have been filed in the Federal District Court at Youngstown by three Columbiana County men, including two East Liverpool residents.

Gordon R. Miller, who gave his address as Postoffice Box 396 and listed his occupation as steelworker, said he has liabilities of $3,823 and assets of $300. William T. Ferguson, who gave his address as 416 College St. and said he is a potter, listed liabilities of $7,397 and assets of $100.

Kyle L. McIntosh, 1720 Buckeye Ave., Columbiana, a clerk, listed liabilities of $1,500 and assets of $125.

Waterford Escapes

NEW WATERFORD — There was no fire loss in the village during 1961, Chief Charles Harrison of the volunteer department said today in making his annual report.

The loss in the rural area served by the department totaled $7,000.

Harrison said the department answered a total of 15 calls last year, including two to dwellings, one at a garage, two false alarms and 10 grass fires.

The chief said "good housekeeping" on the part of the residents was the reason the village did not have any major blazes.

Cickelli Aide Found Guilty

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Trumbull County authorities now have obtained two convictions in connection with an alleged shakedown of contractors on the $4.5 million Warren sewer project.

The latest conviction was returned by a common pleas court jury Sunday against Paul LaMonge, 48, of Niles, accused by the state of acting as the agent of county Democratic Chairman Frank A. Cickelli in contacts with the contractors.

The jury delbierated 12 hours before finding LaMonge guilty of using threats to try to extort $200,000 from Eugene Brady of the Boam Construction Co., Livonia, Mich. The jury also found him guilty of larceny of $10,000 by trick.

LaMonge was acquitted of a third count charging him with trying to extort $200,000 from Al Cicchini of the Rocco Ferrera Construction Co., also of Livonia, Mich. The two firms hold contracts for the sewer project.

Cickelli was convicted in an earlier trial on bribery charges and is free on bond pending appeal. Three former Warren councilmen have pleaded guilty to bribery charges and now are in prison.

Of the seven persons indicted by the grand jury which investigated the sewer project last fall, two still await trial. They are James Soda, president of Soda-Luscher Construction Co. of Niles, and James Matash, professional bondsman, of Warren.

LaMonge faces a possible 5-30 year sentence on the extortion charge and 1-7 years on the larceny by trick charge.

Auto's Plunge Hurts Woman

An elderly Pennsylvania woman is in "fairly good" condition today in City Hospital with injuries suffered when the auto in which she was a passenger slid over a hill Sunday afternoon on Route 30 near the West Virginia state line.

Mrs. Mary Hoon, 63, of Canonsburg suffered a possible fracture of the left hip when the auto driven by her daughter, Katheryn Crocker, 40, of Canonsburg went over the hill.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies in New Cumberland said the mishap happened at 5:45 a half-mile east of the West Virginia line.

Deputies said the driver told them she lost control as she attempted to drive along the side of the highway on ashes, apparently in an attempt to gain traction off the snow-covered road.

Deputies did not make a full investigation because the accident occurred in Pennsylvania. The Carnegie Barracks of Pennsylvania State Police arrived at the scene later, but the car had been towed to a garage.

District Session Of Firemen Gets Various Reports

Recommendations which may be submitted to the state convention, along with reports on wages and working conditions and information on pension laws, were given at the meeting of the 6th District of the Ohio Association of Fire Fighters Saturday afternoon at the Eagles Lodge hall.

The reports on wages and working conditions were submitted from the various departments in the district. They included East Liverpool, Salem, Steubenville, Youngstown, Warren, Canton, Massillon, Girard, Niles and New Philadelphia.

Information on the pension law was outlined by George Mist of Canton, state legislative president.

Some 115 attended the meeting, at which greetings were extended by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and Frank Shone, president of Local 24, which was host to the session.

Dan Eberhart of Youngstown, district president, presided. The invocation was offered by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Local 24 was host at a dinner for the visitors and guests following the meeting.

Peruvians Hear Graham Preach

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Billy Graham preached to 15,000 Peruvians in a bull ring Sunday night and afterward hundreds came forward in answer to his call to make "decisions for Christ."

The American evangelist referred to the current Peruvian election campaign and said he had sensed some of the Latin American enthusiasm for politics.

"Why not give the same enthusiasm to a renewal of faith in Christ?" he asked.

"No one knows when Christ will return, but one thing is sure: The last word on this world will be spoken by Christ and not man."

The mayor of Graham's home town, Stanford Brookshire of Charlotte, N.C., attended the service with a delegation of 25 business leaders and officials who are on a good-will mission to Peru.

Coin Containers Yield $275 In 'Dimes' Drive

Jack Hales, city chairman, said today $275.35 was realized from the March of Dimes coin canisters which were collected Saturday from East Liverpool business places.

He said this includes $36.50 from a "dime board" at the Head Pin Bowling Lanes on Mulberry St. The incomplete total now stands at $3,500, Hales said. He said there still is money coming in from various phases of the drive. The total includes money realized from the Mothers March, the canisters, schools and activities of veteran groups.

Hales said he has not yet received a report on the special gifts.

County Residents File Bankruptcy Petitions

Petitions in bankruptcy have been filed in the Federal District Court at Youngstown by three Columbiana County men, including two East Liverpool residents.

Gordon R. Miller, who gave his address as Postoffice Box 396 and listed his occupation as steelworker, said he has liabilities of $3,823 and assets of $300. William T. Ferguson, who gave his address as 416 College St. and said he is a potter, listed liabilities of $7,397 and assets of $100.

Kyle L. McIntosh, 1720 Buckeye Ave., Columbiana, a clerk, listed liabilities of $1,500 and assets of $125.

Waterford Escapes

NEW WATERFORD — There was no fire loss in the village during 1961, Chief Charles Harrison of the volunteer department said today in making his annual report.

The loss in the rural area served by the department totaled $7,000.

Harrison said the department answered a total of 15 calls last year, including two to dwellings, one at a garage, two false alarms and 10 grass fires.

The chief said "good housekeeping" on the part of the residents was the reason the village did not have any major blazes.

Church Plans Lisbon Rites; Bishop's Due

LISBON — Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Cleveland, resident bishop of the Ohio Area of the Methodist Church, will deliver the principal address and lead dedicatory services Sunday at 10 a. m. in the First Methodist Church, marking the fact the building is debt-free.

Arrangements for the service were announced today by the Rev. William L. Brown, pastor. Marshall Bailey of Salem will present a public organ recital at 2 p. m. Vocal solo numbers will be given by Miss Mary Lodge and Byron Griffith.

Methodism has had a role in Lisbon's history since 1812. Starting as a meeting of interested folk in homes, it has grown to embrace a congregation of 630.

The first church building was located on S. Jefferson St. in 1828, another church structure was erected on the Square. In 1888, the need for a larger building became apparent and a new structure was erected on the southeast corner of Market and Washington Sts.

The church was remodeled in 1925 and various improvements were made until the building was destroyed by fire in February 1944. For the next few years, services were held in the auditorium of David Anderson High School.

In 1949, the cornerstone was laid for the present building. The first service was held Jan. 20, 1950, in the basement of the new building. The first service in the sanctuary was the observance of World Wide Communion on Sunday, Oct. 1, 1950.

Serving on the dedication committee are Robert Leggett, chairman, Miss Lois Armstrong, Mrs. Adam Rudibaugh, Mrs. Albert Webber, Clarence Ball, Charles Pike and Alfred Smith.

dirt and said he feared the fumes may have seeped under the entire plant.

The first explosion was detected about 3 a. m., but employes were unable to locate the cause.

However, there were about four more underground explosions this morning, leading to the closing.

Calhoon first notified city police to close off Virginia Ave. and Fire Chief Charles Bryan and officials of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. were summoned to aid in detecting the cause.

Bryan said the odor appeared to him to be more sewer gas than natural gas.

However, some officials pointed out an accumulation of sewer gas may have exploded, breaking the natural gas main.

Residents along Virginia Ave. said they were not told to evacuate their homes or turn off their gas supplies.

She said she saw a black cloud after the blast, but assumed it was an accumulation of dirt and soot.

"We also could see what appeared to be heat waves," she added.

None of the residents said they have detected any odor of sewer gas.

The agreement also provides for pro rated vacations for all part-time workers other than high school students. The annual vacation for these employes will be computed by adding together the number of hours worked in the year, then dividing the total by 52, representing the number of weeks.

For full-time workers, the new contract also provides a 120 - day comprehensive hospitalization plan under the Blue Cross and Blue Shield systems. Previously, the hospital plan covered 70 days. The company pays the cost.

The contract allows employes to take a year's leave of absence, if they wish, for union business. It provides that full - time employes may participate in the company thrift plan — a savings arrangement — at the start of the second year of the agreement.

Representing the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. in the negotiations were Don Avery, operating superintendent; C. E. Weitzel, personnel director, and Jack Cowey, unit head.

Students Wait Speech Event

Four Hancock County students will compete in the finals of the American Legion's oratorical contest Tuesday night at 7:30 in the home of Chester American Legion Post 121.

Ernest John, chairman, said the county winner will receive a U.S. Savings Bond and gold medal and will advance into district competition with winners from five counties in the 1st District Feb. 20 at Wellsburg.

The contestants will deliver prepared talks on a phase of the Constitution and give extemporaneous four-minute orations on another phase of the Constitution.

The final contestants include Bill Hobbs of Chester High School and other students from New Cumberland, Weirton Madonna and Weir High in Weirton.

The judges and contestants are to meet at 7 at the post home for final instructions. The public may attend the contest at 7:30.

Harvard Figure Dies

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Walter Raymond Spalding, 96, frequently described as the "father of the Harvard music department" died Sunday. He was professor emeritus of music at Harvard.

Deaths and Funerals

Retired Steel Worker Dies

Domenic Riccitelli, 81, of Park Way, a retired laborer at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died this morning at 3:30 at his home following a four-month illness.

Born in Aquila, Italy, Jan. 1, 1881, he lived in this vicinity 57 years. He retired 15 years ago from the Midland plant after 20 years' service. He was a member of St. Ann Catholic Church in East End.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Celeste Riccitelli, and a daughter, Miss Bernadine Riccitelli, both at home; three other daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Vallese of Aliquippa, Mrs. Antonio (Virginia) Greco and Mrs. Antonio (Frances) Perorazio, both of East Liverpool; a son, John Riccitelli of Fontana, Calif., 20 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m. at the church by Fr. Richard Buchmann. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the Martin Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon and evening. The St. Ann's Guild will recite the Rosary at the funeral home Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

George Flocker

George A. Flocker, 63, of Beaver, a former resident of the Hookstown area, died Saturday about 6 p. m. at the Rochester General Hospital, following an illness of several months.

He was born in Beaver Nov. 20, 1898. He was a retired mechanic.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Joseph C. Mooney of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Howard L. Bowers of Eau Gallie, Fla., and Mrs. Eva Sexton of New York.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown by the Rev. James K. Smith, pastor of the Hookstown and Mill Creek Presbyterian Churches. Burial will be in the Mt. Olivet Presbyterian Church Cemetery at Aliquippa R. D.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and tonight.

Harold Engelbaugh

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in Youngstown for Harold E. (Slim) Engelbaugh, general manager of steel operations for Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., who died Saturday at his home of a heart attack. He was 57.

His widow, Mrs. Ann Billie Engelbaugh, is a former Irondale resident and a sister of George M. Billie of Irondale.

Other survivors include two daughters, Miss Sue Engelbaugh of Milwaukee and Miss Margaret Engelbaugh, at home; two sons, Dr. Harold Engelbaugh Jr. of Cleveland and Charles Engelbaugh, at home, and a brother, William Engelbaugh of Youngstown.

Services will be held at the King Funeral Home, where friends may call today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Nearly eight inches of rain had fallen in Los Angeles since the storm started last Wednesday.

Two children died Sunday under tons of mud. An elderly man fell into a 55-foot well shaft and was believed dead. Three other persons were presumed drowned.

Earlier in the storm a boy drowned in a flood-control channel and a woman was crushed to death by a tree that had been undermined by rain.

Police blamed 15 traffic deaths on the storm.

Dams overflowed over the weekend sending water into some homes and imprisoning other residents on isolated knolls. Scores of major intersections were closed.

Residents in Fontana, east of Los Angeles, reported a damaging twister kicked up by winds accompanying the rain.

More than seven inches of rain had fallen in Los Angeles. More than 20 inches fell at Juncal Dam in Santa Barbara County and several mountain areas reported 14 inches.

Season rainfall totals were running five inches above normal in the Los Angeles area, the first time they have been above normal in several years.

Dennis Ray Milne, 9, apparently died in his sleep when tumbling hillside muck burst into his bedroom in suburban Monterey Park.

Laurence Bennett Freed, 2½, died when a section of a cliff gave way and demolished the rear of his family's house in the Sherman Oaks district. Police advised nearby residents to evacuate.

James Fowlie, 20, hasn't been seen since he launched a rubber raft on a flood-control channel in the Highland Park district Sunday. He is presumed drowned.

An innertube rider, John Clements, was swept away in a creek near Ventura when the tube overturned. John Reed disappeared when his boat failed to negotiate rapids of the Santa Clara River.

Mudslides pushed in the windows of actress Tuesday Weld's home and splattered into her swimming pool. Actor Richard Boone fought the oozing brown mess to save his home.

Residents evacuated 20 homes in Frazier Park, a community halfway between Los Angeles and Bakersfield, shortly before a dam spillway gave way and sent water coursing into six homes.

Water from another dam roared five feet deep through Big Tujunga Wash in the San Fernando Valley. It blocked the only exit road for 25 hillside families.

Summit

preparations for a summit conference. He told a recent news conference he did not think a meeting with Khrushchev would be advisable under present conditions.

However, if the Geneva disarmament group can make progress toward translating general principles of disarmament into concrete programs of action, there is reason to believe Kennedy might be willing to go to a summit meeting at a late stage of the negotiations. The Geneva group is to report to the United Nations June 1.

The new Soviet proposition reportedly was delivered when Mikhail N. Smirnovsky, ranking official at the Soviet Embassy, met Sunday morning with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the State Department. Smirnovsky reportedly gave Rusk a seven-page letter from Khrushchev addressed to Kennedy.

Rusk immediately got in touch with the President, who was spending the weekend at Middleburg, Va. Late in the afternoon Rusk called in the ambassadors of Britain, France, Italy and Canada.

The Khrushchev letter is said to have been sent in reply to a proposal which Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan made to him last Thursday. It called for the Geneva meeting to be opened by foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

In effect, Khrushchev raised the bid by suggesting that the 18-nation session be opened not by foreign ministers but by heads of government.

The Soviet leader is reported to have told Kennedy that the issues involved in disarmament were far too serious to be left to "bureaucrats"—by which he made clear he meant the foreign ministers.

The set of disarmament principles on which the United States and the Soviet Union agreed last fall calls for various stages of supervised disarmament aimed totally dismantling national military forces and arsenals.

The United States at the time pointed up at the United Nations the failure to agree on the critically important requirements of an international inspections system. The inspection problem, in the western view, poses the major obstacle in the way of the forthcoming Geneva negotiations.

Khrushchev's letter to Kennedy reportedly made no direct reference to nuclear test ban negotiations.

Appeal

during the trial. He also claimed he asked his attorney to seek a continuance because of his incapacity, but that the attorney refused to do this.

The attorney, S. S. Fekett of Youngstown, denied Malone seemed to be drugged during the trial. The motion to vacate was denied without oral hearing.

In affirming the district judge's action, the court of appeals noted Malone made no mention of being drugged in his first unsuccessful appeal, and declared:

"It must have seemed fantastic to the district judge, as it was to us, that a federal prisoner who was confined in jail for six months awaiting trial could conceal one and one-half ounces of gum opium on his person, avoid detection and keep enough on hand to drug himself to the extent that he was incompetent at his trial. It is almost unbelievable that if Malone had been drugged into incompetency, his condition would have escaped the attention of the presiding judge and those in attendance during the four days of his trial."

The court also noted that Malone's police record, going back to 1948, contained no mention of drug addiction at any time.

26 Midland Students Enter Works In Regional Art Show

Twenty-six students, enrolled in the advanced art classes at Midland High School, will participate in the 1962 Western Pennsylvania regional exhibition sponsored by Scholastic Magazine, Lawrence Novak, advanced art instructor, announced.

For the 35th year, Scholastic Magazine announced the scholastic art awards for the encouragement of student achievement in creative art, Novak said. Regional exhibitions give students the opportunity for local recognition. National honors are scholarships, gold keys, special awards and displays of work at the National High School Art Exhibition in New York City in May.

The local exhibit will be held at Kaufmann's Department Store in Pittsburgh Saturday through Feb. 24. The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed Scholastic Art Awards on the approved list of national contests and activities for 1961-1962.

The work to be submitted was created by students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades, under the direction of Novak. Midland High has taken part in the scholastic contest for three years, and the students won local place awards, gold medals, special awards and national honors.

John Chuldenko has 12 entries. John Nuzzo, seven; Bea Marciniak, five; Dan Visnik, Nancy Ryan, Bill McGeehan, Arland King, Nick Tonti, Bill Muschweck, Jack Webb, Ruth Marciniak, Frankie Clark and Bill Newtz, two each, and Tom Patton, Lewis Kruel, Joanne Scarscella, Tim Epley, Mario Ulizio, Steve Symonak, Dana Graham, Jim Dye, Judson Herter, Carol Atkins, Bob Schiffhouer, Bob Cleis and Joe Ranelli, one each.

50 Attend Lisbon Jaycee Meeting

LISBON — Elmer Williams, Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce president, was among 50 at a district 5 dinner meeting of Jaycees Thursday evening at the VFW home.

John Herbert, son of former Ohio Gov. Thomas Herbert, spoke on "Young Men In Politics." A question-and-answer period followed.

Williams, who also spoke, called for re-emphasis of the purpose of Jaycee work.

Miami U. Drops 382

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Poor grades caused 382 Miami University students to drop out after the fall semester, says Registrar Max B. Rosselot. Rosselot said 222 of the drop-outs were freshmen and that the total number was smaller than last year.

County's Sales Taxes Drop Off In Last Half

Sales tax collections in Columbiana County hit $633,253 in the last half of 1961, off $106,396 from the $739,649 shown in the comparable period of 1960, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson reported today at Columbus.

The treasurer issued a "final amended report" on the statewide receipts from prepaid sales tax stamps. Use of the stamps was discontinued, effective Dec. 31, under a law enacted at the last session of the State Legislature.

Advance payments on sales taxes brought in $6,833 in Columbiana County in the week ending Jan. 3, as against $15,841 actually collected in the comparable week of 1961, Ferguson reported. Sales taxes collected on autos hit $7,153 in Columbiana County in the week ending Jan. 27, compared with $4,471 in the same week of 1961.

Suggestions Are Offered For Finishing Redwood

NEW YORK — Redwood can be finished in a number of different ways, depending on the effect you wish to obtain and maintain.

First of all, there are natural finishes which do not conceal the grain and texture of this popular building material and which modify its color only slightly, if at all.

Secondly, there are flat pigmented stains which hide the grain until they have weathered and which change the color of the wood.

Lastly, there are house paints, either oil - based or water-thinned, which hide the surface completely and give a wide choice of colors.

With redwood, as with any building material, even the best coatings made will not perform properly if the building has not been properly constructed. Since moisture is the most common cause of finish failures, proper construction procedures should be followed.

Moisture generated within the house should be prevented from entering the siding by installation of vapor barriers. Air vents and louvers should be included to allow moisture to escape harmlessly. Water should be prevented from entering from the outside by calking any breaks in the siding and places where dissimilar building materials meet.

The redwood industry advocates the use of kiln-dried redwood only for siding and other architectural uses and holds that air-dried redwood contains so much moisture —which will harm the finish — that it can be classified as green lumber.

For a natural finish, the recommended procedure is to apply two coats of clear water repellant. The first coat should be brushed on the back, face, edges and ends of siding before it is erected. The second coat is brushed on after the siding is installed.

Aluminum, stainless steel or hot-dipped galvanized nails are recommended to prevent staining. If the nails are countersunk, a non-oily wood filler should be used where a natural finish is to be applied. If the wood is to be painted, putty can be used.

Water repellants slow down the fading process of redwood and the wood gradually changes from its natural reddish - brown color to a buckskin tan. For a slightly different color, a pigmented stain can be mixed with the repellant.

A second type of natural finish involves the use of bleaches which turn the redwood the color of gray pigment and care should be used to prevent lapmarks.

A third type of finish that does not obscure the grain is a linseed oil finish which darkens the wood considerably. During dry, warm weather either raw or boiled linseed oil can be brushed, sprayed or mopped on. Boiled oil should be used during cool, damp weather. Two coats are required with either type and care should be taken to prevent a build-up of oil on the surface.

Pigmented stains are available in many colors and give a flat appearance to the wood. Two coats are generally required for new wood and can be brushed or rolled on.

Heavily pigmented stains are the most durable, but lighter bodied stains show more grain and texture. Stains are not recommended for furniture because the stain may rub off and soil clothing. When the stain has worn away to the extent that portions of the wood show through, it is time to refinish with a single coat.

Quality paint, of course, is the most durable finish, and is available in literally hundreds of colors. Either oil - based or exterior latex paints can be used on redwood, following the label instructions as to the primer coat required. Latex paints should be applied to bare wood because the water used to thin them will leach out the color of the wood and cause staining.

Wrought Iron Rail Serves 2 Purposes

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Any stairs or steps more than two steps high should have a railing. Statistics show that more than half of the accidents around a house occur at those points.

Be that as it may, there are many times when a railing might interfere with the architectural effect of a house or where it is difficult to find a design that would be good looking. The railing described hereafter seems to overcome almost any objection.

This rail is made of inch-and-a-half by quarter-inch wrought iron flat strip. It is composed of one long piece which is turned up at the top end to form a flat flange against the house wall. The lower end is curved gracefully to lie flat on the lower step.

Both ends are drilled to take substantial screws or lag screws. The intermediate support is welded to the lower edge of the handrail and secured also with screws at the bottom. There should be one of these supports for every other step.

This rail is so simple to make that any blacksmith or ironworker can turn it out with ease. All he will need is a plain diagram showing the height and number of steps plus the over-all dimension from the front step to the house wall.

This rail can be painted so that it will be very inconspicuous. And it also can be made a feature where there is other ornamental ironwork on the house.

TO KEEP A LONG hallway from looking like a prison corridor, panel the walls with a warm colored prestige wood like western red cedar. Here, book shelving added to other side utilizes wall space under a high bank of windows. Result is functional and decorative.

Preparing To Paint Talk With Dealer First

NEW YORK — Before you start that painting project which will transform your home into a gay and colorful place in which to live and entertain, consult your established, reputable paint dealer.

For both interior and exterior painting, he will be happy to give you advice on what paints to use where and how to apply them.

Knowing the proper paint for the various surfaces in your home is important because there is no such thing as an all-purpose paint that will give optimum results everywhere.

For example, your dealer will recommend an alkali - resistant paint for masonry and not an oil paint that is incompatible with cement. He will advise you to use a gloss or semi - gloss enamel for kitchen and bathroom walls because these coatings are more resistant to moisture and grease and can be scrubbed more vigorously if necessary.

Your reputable paint dealer also will point out to you that while Portland cement paint is ideal for concrete basement walls it is not meant for use on basement floors because it will not stand up under the pounding of feet.

He will suggest that when you are planning to apply yellow or pink paint over a dark surface, it is advisable to first apply a coat of pigmented primer sealer because the two colors have low hiding power.

Your dealer probably will recommend various accessories designed to make the job as easy as possible, products you might not know about. For example, he will have special screen-painting tools, disposable paint buckets in which to mix paint, stirring paddles, masking tape, protective creams and many other aids.

He will recommend the type and size of brush to use on various surfaces and will tell you which type roller is best for flat wall paint and which is best for enamel. He also will tell you about angular sash tools that make it simple to paint windows without getting paint on the glass and tiny rollers which make it possible to paint a strip at the top of the wall without getting paint on the ceiling.

Your dealer will be anxious to tell you about the newer products developed by the busy technicians of the paint, varnish and lacquer industry in recent years.

These include multi - color paints which deposit a color-flecked pattern on a surface with a single application, varnishes that dry in an hour and last for years, special tile - like finishes for cement block, primers that can be applied over sound rusted surfaces, varnishes that contain new resins such as expoxies and urethanes that make them resistant to household chemicals, and literally dozens of other new and improved formulations.

Health Benefits Seen In Hydronic Heating

CHICAGO — Much winter discomfort, and many winter colds, are caused by an inadequate heating system.

A person may get bundled up to venture outside, he may eat the proper food and take enough vitamins and still he may be taking a chance on illness due to his home's heating system.

How? Even though a lot of heat may be funneled into the room, there can be cold drafts at floor level and cold areas next to windows and outer walls.

Most heating engineers agree that hydronic radiant heating is the perfect, economical answer to these health threats. There are several kinds of circulating hot water heating systems, including hidden heat distributors in baseboard, valances, floors, walls or ceilings. But in each case, the effect is even, draftless heat in all parts of the room.

Hydronic radiant heating, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, effectly prevents excessive loss of body heat (which is why the body gets cold) at all times. Room temperature is kept constant because the system adjusts smoothly to fluctuating outside temperatures.

Circulation of allergy-producing pollens, dust, bacteria and odors is eliminated because there are no warm or cold drafts to spread them.

Hydronic heating contributes greatly to comfortable, healthful living. Moreover, since the coils are hidden away, complete freedom is permitted in planning the room's decor, the bureau points out.

Water Heater Tips Offered

CHICAGO—You can't get along without hot water. Therefore, take care of the source — the water heater.

The temperature dial setting of an automatic water heater should normally be at or below 140 degrees F. Set it higher, though, for periods of peak use — combined operation of dishwasher and clothes washer, for instance, while baths are being taken. But consistent operation above 140 degrees, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, means excessive wear on the water heater.

The burner of a gas - fired heater is easily accessible and should be checked by your plumbing contractor periodically to keep it clear of dust or sediment.

If your water heater is the storage type, drain a few quarts of water out of the bottom of the tank several times each year to keep sediment from accumulating in the tank bottom.

A final note here on hot water—you can keep your water bills low by tempering all hot water as it is used. Letting the hot water flow on and on by itself wastes not only water but fuel as well.

Patrol Utilizes Radar To Cite 2 On Speeding

State Highway Patrol officers, using radar timing equipment, cited two motorists Thursday on charges of speeding in a newly-established 45-mile zone in the Cannons Mills area on Route 30, site of several traffic fatalities in recent years.

Howard P. Flanigan, 736 Lincoln Ave., was cited at 9:55 a.m. for driving 80 miles an hour. Roy P. Young of R.D. 1, arrested at 10:08 a.m., was accused of driving 65.

The patrol filed charges in Municipal Court, where both cases are set for hearing Tuesday at 9 a.m.

LISBON — Virgil Stamp of Columbiana filed suit for $15,000 Friday in Common Pleas Court against Lloyd A. Culler of Washingtonville, claiming personal injuries in a traffic crash Aug. 10, 1961, on Route 164. Stamp says Culler's truck rammed the rear of his car, injuring his back.

You Can Give Your Hallway Glamor Look

PORTLAND, Ore. — A house with a lovely hallway can be called a truly well decorated home.

All too often, every wit and every penny is lavished on the living room, with the result that such important, functional areas as hallways take the lumps and are, at best, drab and monotonous.

Hallways deserve better treatment than that. After all, each member of the family uses the hallway many times a day. Why not make those frequent trips pleasurable experiences?

Decorating a hallway is easy and inexpensive. There are only walls, floor and ceiling to cope with.

For the walls, wood paneling is pretty and practical. Something like western red cedar in 6-or 8-inch-wide panels would be ideal for the hall which can use rich color and texture. If the hallway is narrow and poorly lighted, west coast hemlock might be preferable. Hemlock's delicate coloring, about the shade of a glass of champagne, will give sunlight quality to the walls.

Finished with a few coats of clear plastic lacquer and buffed well to eliminate gloss, these woods will take all the guff they're exposed to in the hallway.

The ceiling, by contrast, should be flat paint and preferably a neutral oyster white or cream. A few dollars invested in attractive lighting fixtures will pay big dividends in making this area of the house seem more glamorous.

Carpeting to soften footsteps is another profitable investment for a hallway. A tweedy pattern with a short nap stays fresh looking longer than patternless carpeting. And tweeds are available in a wide range of color to contrast or blend with the warm wood shades on the walls.

If the hallway runs along an exterior wall, it might be smart to put in a high bank of windows to lighten and enliven the area. Windows should be set in important-looking wood frames. Clear glass may be used if the hall overlooks the back yard. For a hallway at the front of the house, windows of pebbled or translucent glass will afford privacy and eliminate curtaining problems at the same time.

The wall area beneath the windows could then be developed into shallow storage cabinets, open book shelving, or magazine racks to make the most of this hallway space.

Varied Problems Are Involved In Split-Level Home

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We are considering having a home built and have about decided on a split - level house. Can you tell us whether a split level is cheaper than a regular ranch house?

Answer: This is an impossible question to answer because of the large number of variations which enter into the construction of individual houses.

Split levels originally were designed to take advantage of sloping land on which regular houses could not easily be built, but these days they are being constructed on flat land as well.

There are many economies which can be effected in the building of a split level, one of which is the smaller foundation required.

But this is sometimes offset by the fact that construction is a bit more difficult — and thus more expensive — because of the staggered levels.

Your choice should be based on (1) how much you can afford to spend; (2) whether you like the design and room arrangements of a split level, and (3) whether you can find the type of house you want at the price you want to pay and in the neighborhood where you want to live.

It is estimated that 240 lives a year will be saved upon completion or Ohio's interstate system.

Suggestions Are Offered For Finishing Redwood

NEW YORK — Redwood can be finished in a number of different ways, depending on the effect you wish to obtain and maintain.

First of all, there are natural finishes which do not conceal the grain and texture of this popular building material and which modify its color only slightly, if at all.

Secondly, there are flat pigmented stains which hide the grain until they have weathered and which change the color of the wood.

Lastly, there are house paints, either oil - based or water-thinned, which hide the surface completely and give a wide choice of colors.

With redwood, as with any building material, even the best coatings made will not perform properly if the building has not been properly constructed. Since moisture is the most common cause of finish failures, proper construction procedures should be followed.

Moisture generated within the house should be prevented from entering the siding by installation of vapor barriers. Air vents and louvers should be included to allow moisture to escape harmlessly. Water should be prevented from entering from the outside by calking any breaks in the siding and places where dissimilar building materials meet.

The redwood industry advocates the use of kiln-dried redwood only for siding and other architectural uses and holds that air-dried redwood contains so much moisture —which will harm the finish — that it can be classified as green lumber.

For a natural finish, the recommended procedure is to apply two coats of clear water repellant. The first coat should be brushed on the back, face, edges and ends of siding before it is erected. The second coat is brushed on after the siding is installed.

Aluminum, stainless steel or hot-dipped galvanized nails are recommended to prevent staining. If the nails are countersunk, a non-oily wood filler should be used where a natural finish is to be applied. If the wood is to be painted, putty can be used.

Water repellants slow down the fading process of redwood and the wood gradually changes from its natural reddish - brown color to a buckskin tan. For a slightly different color, a pigmented stain can be mixed with the repellant.

A second type of natural finish involves the use of bleaches which turn the redwood the color of gray pigment and care should be used to prevent lapmarks.

A third type of finish that does not obscure the grain is a linseed oil finish which darkens the wood considerably. During dry, warm weather either raw or boiled linseed oil can be brushed, sprayed or mopped on. Boiled oil should be used during cool, damp weather. Two coats are required with either type and care should be taken to prevent a build-up of oil on the surface.

Pigmented stains are available in many colors and give a flat appearance to the wood. Two coats are generally required for new wood and can be brushed or rolled on.

Heavily pigmented stains are the most durable, but lighter bodied stains show more grain and texture. Stains are not recommended for furniture because the stain may rub off and soil clothing. When the stain has worn away to the extent that portions of the wood show through, it is time to refinish with a single coat.

Quality paint, of course, is the most durable finish, and is available in literally hundreds of colors. Either oil - based or exterior latex paints can be used on redwood, following the label instructions as to the primer coat required. Latex paints should be applied to bare wood because the water used to thin them will leach out the color of the wood and cause staining.

Wrought Iron Rail Serves 2 Purposes

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Any stairs or steps more than two steps high should have a railing. Statistics show that more than half of the accidents around a house occur at those points.

Be that as it may, there are many times when a railing might interfere with the architectural effect of a house or where it is difficult to find a design that would be good looking. The railing described hereafter seems to overcome almost any objection.

This rail is made of inch-and-a-half by quarter-inch wrought iron flat strip. It is composed of one long piece which is turned up at the top end to form a flat flange against the house wall. The lower end is curved gracefully to lie flat on the lower step.

Both ends are drilled to take substantial screws or lag screws. The intermediate support is welded to the lower edge of the handrail and secured also with screws at the bottom. There should be one of these supports for every other step.

This rail is so simple to make that any blacksmith or ironworker can turn it out with ease. All he will need is a plain diagram showing the height and number of steps plus the over-all dimension from the front step to the house wall.

This rail can be painted so that it will be very inconspicuous. And it also can be made a feature where there is other ornamental ironwork on the house.

Preparing To Paint Talk With Dealer First

NEW YORK — Before you start that painting project which will transform your home into a gay and colorful place in which to live and entertain, consult your established, reputable paint dealer.

For both interior and exterior painting, he will be happy to give you advice on what paints to use where and how to apply them.

Knowing the proper paint for the various surfaces in your home is important because there is no such thing as an all-purpose paint that will give optimum results everywhere.

For example, your dealer will recommend an alkali - resistant paint for masonry and not an oil paint that is incompatible with cement. He will advise you to use a gloss or semi - gloss enamel for kitchen and bathroom walls because these coatings are more resistant to moisture and grease and can be scrubbed more vigorously if necessary.

Your reputable paint dealer also will point out to you that while Portland cement paint is ideal for concrete basement walls it is not meant for use on basement floors because it will not stand up under the pounding of feet.

He will suggest that when you are planning to apply yellow or pink paint over a dark surface, it is advisable to first apply a coat of pigmented primer sealer because the two colors have low hiding power.

Your dealer probably will recommend various accessories designed to make the job as easy as possible, products you might not know about. For example, he will have special screen-painting tools, disposable paint buckets in which to mix paint, stirring paddles, masking tape, protective creams and many other aids.

He will recommend the type and size of brush to use on various surfaces and will tell you which type roller is best for flat wall paint and which is best for enamel. He also will tell you about angular sash tools that make it simple to paint windows without getting paint on the glass and tiny rollers which make it possible to paint a strip at the top of the wall without getting paint on the ceiling.

Your dealer will be anxious to tell you about the newer products developed by the busy technicians of the paint, varnish and lacquer industry in recent years.

These include multi - color paints which deposit a color-flecked pattern on a surface with a single application, varnishes that dry in an hour and last for years, special tile - like finishes for cement block, primers that can be applied over sound rusted surfaces, varnishes that contain new resins such as expoxies and urethanes that make them resistant to household chemicals, and literally dozens of other new and improved formulations.

Flames Again Strike Downtown Circleville

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Fire struck in downtown Circleville early today for the second time in 24 hours, heavily damaging the Eagles Home on Main Street.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said the blaze in the old two-story brick Eagles Home burned mostly within the walls, but that most of the loss, which he estimated at $20,000, was caused by smoke and water.

At Dance In Newell

Anita Powell Crowned

Selection of Miss Anita Powell as queen highlighted the annual Sweetheart Dance of the Y-Teens of Wells High School Saturday night in Newell.

The queen's escorts, chosen by Jack Evans' band which provided music for the event, were Sandra Walters, Susan Tucker, Susan McKenna and Karen Duncan.

The queen was selected by the sponsoring student group. She was escorted by Albert Lyons of Chester and presented a bouquet of flowers in addition to the crown.

"My Funny Valentine" was the theme. Decorations featured red and white hearts. About 120 attended. Mrs. Carol Cameron and Mrs. Janet Houk, faculty members, are sponsors of the Y-Teens.

Dinner To Close Course Of Utility

Forty representatives from area industrial plants are expected to attend a dinner tonight at the Country Club winding up a three-month course on industrial power distribution sponsored by the Ohio Power Co.

The course started last November and has been meeting weekly to discuss good plant wiring, service facilities, planning for plant expansion, meter protection and fault current calculations.

The class included plant engineers, electricians and maintenance men. The instructors included the utility's industrial engineers — Don Jacobs of East Liverpool, Harold Neff, formerly of East Liverpool and now of Bellaire, and Don Naftzger and James Beck of Steubenville.

No New Entries Listed For Races In Hancock

A special extension of the filing deadline for Board of Education candidates for Hancock County's May 8 primary passed at midnight Saturday with no new entries added to the original field of six.

The filing deadline was extended from Feb. 3 to Saturday by the West Virginia Legislature to clear up confusion over a section of the law governing the filing requirements. The extension applied only to Board of Education candidates in races throughout the state and will not be in effect after this year.

The original field of six who filed for two vacant seats on the board includes J. Fred Allison of Newell and John W. Boyd of Chester, incumbents, and George Vukas, Anthony E. LaNeve, John C. Abrams and John Paul Jones.

Annual Program Presented By Lisbon Music Study Club

The Lisbon Music Study Club, in conjunction with its affiliation with the state and national federations of music clubs, presented for the public its annual "Parade of American Music" Friday night in the Sunday School parlors of the First Presbyterian Church.

Beginning with the hymn of the month, "Holy Spirit, Truth Divine," choral groups sang under the direction of Mrs. Blanche Neill, with Mrs. Theodore Greener at the piano.

Paul Kosower, a student at Lisbon High School, played as a cello solo a prelude from "Suite An Cienne" by Henry Hadley. Mrs. Vernon Duke was his accompanist.

Choral Group Sings

The choral group of the club, directed by Mrs. D. H. Hepburn, continued vocal music with "Getting to Know You" by Rogers and Hammerstein and "In the Still of the Night" by Cole Porter.

Misses Kay Ann Hayes, Shirley Rubino and Nancy Ramsey, High School students, presented flute trio numbers, with Mrs. Duke accompanying them. Fred Waring's arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers" and a Negro spiritual, "Sit Down Servant," were sung by a vocal group from the high school. The chorus is directed by James Kennedy.

Soloist Performs

Miss Camille Firestone presented two violin solos "Banjo and the Fiddle" and "On the Nile." She was accompanied by Mrs. Greener. Karen Riggle, a High School student, sang "Alice Blue Gown," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hepburn.

A tea followed in the church dining room, where the table was decorated with red geraniums and white snapdragons. Miss Mary Lodge and Mrs. Graham Kearney served at the tea table.

Lodge Seats Officers

Mrs. Leland Camp was inducted as most excellent chief; Mrs. Roy Patterson, excellent senior; Mrs. A. E. Christopher, excellent junior; Mrs. C. E. Mitchell, manager; Mrs. Forest McClintock, treasurer; Mrs. Ted James, outside guard; Mrs. Kenneth Hult, musician and Mrs. Patterson, trustee for a three-year term.

Mrs. William Lipe, the retiring chief, conducted business. Mrs. Burnip was the installing officer.

Guest Attends

Mrs. Clyde Book of Youngstown, who has been visiting with Mrs. Christopher, was a guest for the installation ceremony.

The next regular meeting will be Feb. 23.

Mrs. Leo Capehart was hostess to the Fortnightly Club Friday night at her home on N. Market St.

Two tables of bridge were followed by a lunch served by the hostess.

Club Entertained

Mrs. Cecil McCowin of Rogers entertained Lisbon associates of the Cardettes Club Friday evening.

Mrs. McCowin, the president, conducted a short business meeting, followed by two tables of cards. Prizes at 500 were awarded to Mrs. John Holshue, Mrs. Donald Elkins and Mrs. Daniel Vargo.

Valentine decorations were used throughout the home and also as a feature of the lunch.

Mrs. Everett Biggins of Apples Corners will receive the club Feb. 23.

The Mariners Group of Trinity United Presbyterian Church met Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Berdine of E. Washington St. Eighteen were present.

Warren Bettis Speaks

The skippers, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yarwood, presided. Devotions were led by Mrs. Bill Bergert.

State Rep. Warren Bettis spoke on "The Trial of Jesus Christ" giving a lawyer's viewpoint. A question and answer period followed.

The next meeting will be March 10.

Dinner and a social time were held Saturday by 19 members of the Wednesday Night Discussion Group at its annual affair at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Weinstock of Franklin Square Rd.

Next Meeting Set

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutter of E. Chestnut St. will be hosts Feb. 28.

Mrs. William Cullison entertained associates of the Double-Four Club Saturday night at her home on W. Washington St., with all members present.

A 7 o'clock lunch was served by Mrs. Cullison's granddaughters, Debra Hobart and Dixie Cross. A red and white valentine theme was used.

Card Games Featured

The evening was spent at cards. Mrs. Frank Flugan will receive the club Feb. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Low of Cleveland spent Saturday with Mrs. Frank Low Sr. of Park Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. William Low of E. Lincoln Way.

Mrs. Maude Lodge returned to her home on N. Market St. Friday from a two-week visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thelma Staaf in Hubbard. Mrs. Staaf accompanied her home.

Tumbles Injure 5 From District During Weekend

Five of the eight persons treated at City Hospital over the weekend were injured in falls.

Mrs. Phyllis Davis, 55, of R. D. 2 suffered abrasions of the left knee and a fracture of the left wrist when she fell at the Kay-Bee Roller Arena Saturday evening. All the others were treated Sunday.

Michael Savage, 12, son of William Savage, 1002 Avondale St., suffered a laceration of the scalp when he bumped his head against the dome light of a car.

9 Youths At Chester At Synod Conference

Nine young people of two Chester churches attended the synod youth conference of the United Presbyterian Churches of West Virginia Friday and Saturday at Parkersburg.

From the Westminster church were Susan French, Deborah Kimble, Alice DeLong, Grace Wolfe and Dave Jordan, and from the First church are Karen Greenlee, Jeff Oyster, Allen Snyder and Bill Poole.

They were accompanied by the Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the First church. The trip was made by chartered bus.

Stanton Local Game Away From Second Perfect Season

Potters Falter Late In 56-To-53 Loss At Hands Of Canton Five

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Behind by nine points at halftime, Canton Central capitalized on numerous mistakes made by East Liverpool in the second half to nose out the Potters, 56-53, Saturday night before some 750 fans at Memorial Auditorium.

The Potters, who looked good in spurts but very bad at other times, dropped their eighth game in 13 starts, while the Crusaders notched their ninth win against six defeats.

As far as the Blue and White was concerned, the game was almost a replay of Friday's contest at Toronto where East Liverpool grabbed an attractive lead but couldn't hold it. The difference between the two games, though, was that the Potters won the Toronto engagement but dropped Saturday's tilt.

East Liverpool threw the ball away on several occasions in the crucial stages of the fourth quarter giving Central opportunities to grab the lead.

THE LAST tie came at 51-51 with 2:20 remaining. Dean Cline knotted the score on a tip. Big Jim Probstle, 6-foot-4, an end in football, dropped in a foul to put Central in front 52-51 with 2:05 left.

The clock showed 1:45 when Roger Linville let go with a one-hander that meshed the nets, swinging the Potters back in front 53-52.

Central failed to score and the Potters took over, but Huck Steffen's long pass went sailing out of bounds and Canton got possession.

Linville missed on another long one-hander with 28 seconds to go but East Liverpool received one more chance. With 10 seconds remaining, Steffen let go with a long two-handed set shot that went in and out of the hoop.

On Steffen's shot, Coach Jim Harris questioned the officials on goal tending by Canton's Probstle, who appeared to have stuck his hand in the net as the ball was on the hoop.

REFEREE Steve Nagy, who was the logical official to make the call, ruled no goal tending.

Both squads were tied from the field with 20 goals each, with the margin coming from the foul line. The Potters were accurate enough from the line converting 13 of 16, while Central made 16 of 23.

Shooting-wise, the Potters fired 39 per cent to Canton's 31.

Jack Deshler wasn't around for the wild ending. He fouled out with 3:45 remaining, but led the Potters again in scoring with 14 markers. He hit on six of nine shots.

Three other Potter starters gained the double figures, with sophomore Frank McComas, who is improving with every game, dropping in 12. Cline fired in 11 and Linville 10.

TOM Kraft, the Potters' utility man, added five points to the attack after entering the game in the second quarter.

Probstle, the tallest man on the floor, was hard to stop at times and wound up with 18 points to lead Coach Jim Swierczek's squad.

Behind Probstle was little 5-foot-8 Caplea who was deadly from the outside and scored 13.

After several ties in the second quarter, the Potters went on to post a 37-28 lead at halftime. Deshler's seven points and McComas' six led the Potters in the second quarter.

Central picked up some ground in the third quarter and was within six of the Potters, 44-38, when the period ended.

Paul Penny, a 5-foot-9 performer, paced the fourth quarter rally with seven points, while Caplea added six.

East Liverpool has only one game next week, Friday night at Memorial Auditorium against Martins Ferry.

A roll of the drums and a trumpet fanfare would be appropriate today as a salute to Stanton Local High's Red Raiders who conclude their regular season Tuesday night.

The unbeaten Irondale five (17-0) will meet dangerous United Local (9-7) at Hanoverton and a victory would clinch its second perfect season in succession.

Recording their 36th triumph in 37 games over a two-year stretch, the Stanton quint polished off Painesville Harvey Saturday night, 72-44, in maintaining the clean record against a Class AA opponent.

The trip to the Lake County school was the longest athletic venture in the school's history, but an estimated 350 fans made the 100-mile journey to see the Raiders win with a second half burst.

STANTON turned a slim 28-23 margin at intermission into a rout in allowing Painesville Harvey only two field goals in the third quarter. The Raiders boomed ahead after halftime as giant center Don (The Stilt) Spires, 6-6 center, recovered from a slow start and went on to score 24 points.

Some terrific foul shooting (28 of 34) helped Stanton Local overcome a sluggish first half when the score was close most of the way.

But Painesville faltered badly in the second two periods and wilted quickly against Stanton's sharper attack led by the inside scoring of Spires and the steady play of guard, Curt Rose.

Painesville got off to a strong start as guard Mickey Merrill, 5-10 senior, pumped from the outside and Dennis Finch, 6-2 junior, delivered three field goals from the pivot area.

Their scoring led Harvey to a 14-13 first period lead and the lead exchanged hands frequently through most of a slow second quarter.

Stanton's All-Ohio Spires tied the score at 19-19 with a pair of fouls with 6:14 left, then Marlon McCuen converted another at 5:05 to give the Red Raiders a lead they maintained the rest of the way.

LEADING 28-23 at intermission, Stanton began to roll as the third period opened. Bob Mills hit a jump shot, Rose tallied on a drive-in from the right side and Jim Leedy followed with a 25 - foot push shot that pushed Stanton's lead to 34-23.

Spires' first field goal of the game at 2:17 of the third quarter boosted Stanton's lead to 39-28. Then the Raiders scored seven straight points on free throws to move out to a 46-28 lead, erasing any hopes Painesville entertained for an upset.

The final quarter found Stanton Local boosting its lead to well over 20 points at times, with Spires leading the way on accurate foul shots.

It was an exceptionally cleanly-played game. David Merriam, 6-1 senior, of Painesville was the only foul casualty.

Stanton's shooting average was one of the lowest of the season, 32 per cent with 22 field goals in 62 attempts. The losers fired 28 per cent in making 17 of 61 shots.

Spires will enter Tuesday night's season finale with 441 points representing an average of almost 26 points per game. The Raiders will begin tournament play Thursday night against Adena.

In the preliminary, the Painesville Harvey Reserves moved out to a 6-0 lead and went on to defeat the Stanton Local Reserves, 53-31, for their 11th victory in 17 games. Larry Mills led the Stanton reserves with 10 points.

Chester Wallops Malvern, 77-52

Smith's 23 Gears 8th Victory For Panthers

Chester rebounded from Friday's loss to Wellsville by routing visiting Malvern, 77-52, Saturday night.

Jerry Smith, a 5-foot-10 performer, accounted for 23 points in Chester's eighth win against nine setbacks this season.

Smith was joined by three teammates who became double figure performers. Bob Myers added 17 points, Jim Tridico fired in 14 and Blaine Pinney added 10.

After Malvern led in the opening moments of the contest, Chester went in front to stay. The Panthers posted a 22-10 first quarter advantage, led 46-20 at halftime and at the game out of reach 60-39 at the end of the third period.

Malvern, the same team that defeated Newell a week ago, was paced by Ebney who led all scorers with 28 points.

The victory Saturday was the fifth in six games for Coach Max Tuttle's squad.

The Panthers are busy twice this week. They travel down Route 66 to Newell Tuesday night in an effort to avenge an earlier loss to their chief rival then entertain West Liberty Friday.

Wellsville's Chuck Stone Named Tournament Scorer

The avocation of a Wellsville man, keeping the scorebooks for the high school basketball squads, has earned him a trip to the 1962 Ohio state basketball tournament.

Charles F. (Chuck) Stone, 38, of Russell Hgts., has been selected by the Ohio High School Athletic Association as the scorekeeper for the state tournament March 23-24 in Columbus.

RECOMMENDED by the Eastern District Athletic Board and confirmed by Commissioner W. J. McConnell of the OHSAA, the selection constitutes the fulfillment of a goal towards which Stone has worked for more than a decade.

His dream of wanting to keep the books for the annual sports event was brought to the attention of the Eastern District Board in a Review feature story last year.

James C. Wilson of Brilliant, president, recommended Stone's selection to the Eastern Board and it in turn passed along the resolution to state officials.

McCONNELL confirmed Stone's appointment last week as the scorekeeper for the six tournament games at St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus.

Stone will be the only scorekeeper for the finals, working both games involving Class A and Class AA schools.

"I'm real tickled at the appointment; it's something I've always wanted to do since I started keeping score for Wellsville," Stone happily declared today.

STONE has been scorekeeper for the Tigers since 1948 and has missed only one game in the 14 years — an impressive record that state officials apparently felt made him deserving of the choice.

A bachelor, stone has been employed at Wilson's Market in Wellsville for over 25 years and is active in other community activities besides sports.

He is the second area resident to be named a scorekeeper for the state tournament. Nate Lorah, faculty manager of East Liverpool High School, served as chief scorer for the 1956 tournament.

Stanton Local Game Away From Second Perfect Season

Potters Falter Late In 56-To-53 Loss At Hands Of Canton Five

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Behind by nine points at halftime, Canton Central capitalized on numerous mistakes made by East Liverpool in the second half to nose out the Potters, 56-53, Saturday night before some 750 fans at Memorial Auditorium.

The Potters, who looked good in spurts but very bad at other times, dropped their eighth game in 13 starts, while the Crusaders notched their ninth win against six defeats.

As far as the Blue and White was concerned, the game was almost a replay of Friday's contest at Toronto where East Liverpool grabbed an attractive lead but couldn't hold it. The difference between the two games, though, was that the Potters won the Toronto engagement but dropped Saturday's tilt.

East Liverpool threw the ball away on several occasions in the crucial stages of the fourth quarter giving Central opportunities to grab the lead.

THE LAST tie came at 51-51 with 2:20 remaining. Dean Cline knotted the score on a tip. Big Jim Probstle, 6-foot-4, an end in football, dropped in a foul to put Central in front 52-51 with 2:05 left.

The clock showed 1:45 when Roger Linville let go with a one-hander that meshed the nets, swinging the Potters back in front 53-52.

Linville missed on another long one-hander with 28 seconds to go but East Liverpool received one more chance. With 10 seconds remaining, Steffen let go with a long two-handed set shot that went in and out of the hoop.

On Steffen's shot, Coach Jim Harris questioned the officials on goal tending by Canton's Probstle, who appeared to have stuck his hand in the net as the ball was on the hoop.

REFEREE Steve Nagy, who was the logical official to make the call, ruled no goal tending.

Both squads were tied from the field with 20 goals each, with the margin coming from the foul line. The Potters were accurate enough from the line converting 13 of 16, while Central made 16 of 23.

Shooting-wise, the Potters fired 39 per cent to Canton's 31.

Jack Deshler wasn't around for the wild ending. He fouled out with 3:45 remaining, but led the Potters again in scoring with 14 markers. He hit on six of nine shots.

Three other Potter starters gained the double figures, with sophomore Frank McComas, who is improving with every game, dropping in 12. Cline fired in 11 and Linville 10.

Probstle, the tallest man on the floor, was hard to stop at times and wound up with 18 points to lead Coach Jim Swierczek's squad.

Behind Probstle was little 5-foot-8 Caplea who was deadly from the outside and scored 13.

After several ties in the second quarter, the Potters went on to post a 37-28 lead at halftime. Deshler's seven points and McComas' six led the Potters in the second quarter.

Central picked up some ground in the third quarter and was within six of the Potters, 44-38, when the period ended.

Painesville Is 17th Win; Faces United In Finale

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

A roll of the drums and a trumpet fanfare would be appropriate today as a salute to Stanton Local High's Red Raiders who conclude their regular season Tuesday night.

The unbeaten Irondale five (17-0) will meet dangerous United Local (9-7) at Hanoverton and a victory would clinch its second perfect season in succession.

Recording their 36th triumph in 37 games over a two-year stretch, the Stanton quint polished off Painesville Harvey Saturday night, 72-44, in maintaining the clean record against a Class AA opponent.

The trip to the Lake County school was the longest athletic venture in the school's history, but an estimated 350 fans made the 100-mile journey to see the Raiders win with a second half burst.

STANTON turned a slim 28-23 margin at intermission into a rout in allowing Painesville Harvey only two field goals in the third quarter. The Raiders boomed ahead after halftime as giant center Don (The Stilt) Spires, 6-6 center, recovered from a slow start and went on to score 24 points.

Some terrific foul shooting (28 of 34) helped Stanton Local overcome a sluggish first half when the score was close most of the way.

But Painesville faltered badly in the second two periods and wilted quickly against Stanton's sharper attack led by the inside scoring of Spires and the steady play of guard, Curt Rose.

Painesville got off to a strong start as guard Mickey Merrill, 5-10 senior, pumped from the outside and Dennis Finch, 6-2 junior, delivered three field goals from the pivot area.

Their scoring led Harvey to a 14-13 first period lead and the lead exchanged hands frequently through most of a slow second quarter.

Stanton's All-Ohio Spires tied the score at 19-19 with a pair of fouls with 6:14 left, then Marlon McCuen converted another at 5:05 to give the Red Raiders a lead they maintained the rest of the way.

LEADING 28-23 at intermission, Stanton began to roll as the third period opened. Bob Mills hit a jump shot, Rose tallied on a drive-in from the right side and Jim Leedy followed with a 25 - foot push shot that pushed Stanton's lead to 34-23.

Spires' first field goal of the game at 2:17 of the third quarter boosted Stanton's lead to 39-28. Then the Raiders scored seven straight points on free throws to move out to a 46-28 lead, erasing any hopes Painesville entertained for an upset.

The final quarter found Stanton Local boosting its lead to well over 20 points at times, with Spires leading the way on accurate foul shots.

It was an exceptionally cleanly-played game. David Merriam, 6-1 senior, of Painesville was the only foul casualty.

Stanton's shooting average was one of the lowest of the season, 32 per cent with 22 field goals in 62 attempts. The losers fired 28 per cent in making 17 of 61 shots.

Spires will enter Tuesday night's season finale with 441 points representing an average of almost 26 points per game. The Raiders will begin tournament play Thursday night against Adena.

In the preliminary, the Painesville Harvey Reserves moved out to a 6-0 lead and went on to defeat the Stanton Local Reserves, 53-31, for their 11th victory in 17 games. Larry Mills led the Stanton reserves with 10 points.

Chester Wallops Malvern, 77-52

Smith's 23 Gears 8th Victory For Panthers

Chester rebounded from Friday's loss to Wellsville by routing visiting Malvern, 77-52, Saturday night.

Jerry Smith, a 5-foot-10 performer, accounted for 23 points in Chester's eighth win against nine setbacks this season.

Smith was joined by three teammates who became double figure performers. Bob Myers added 17 points, Jim Tridico fired in 14 and Blaine Pinney added 10.

After Malvern led in the opening moments of the contest, Chester went in front to stay. The Panthers posted a 22-10 first quarter advantage, led 46-20 at halftime and at the game out of reach 60-39 at the end of the third period.

Malvern, the same team that defeated Newell a week ago, was paced by Ebney who led all scorers with 28 points.

The victory Saturday was the fifth in six games for Coach Max Tuttle's squad.

The Panthers are busy twice this week. They travel down Route 66 to Newell Tuesday night in an effort to avenge an earlier loss to their chief rival then entertain West Liberty Friday.

Baker Scores 35 In Losing Effort

Gary Rippeth of Conotton Valley and Salineville's Jack Baker waged a real scoring match but Baker's performance came in vain as the Indians dropped their 16th contest, 90-63, Saturday at Conotton Valley.

Baker tallied 35 points, for his best effort of the season, while Rippeth set a new school record at Conotton Valley with a 44-point total, two over the old school mark.

The latest scoring by Baker pushed his total to 344 for the season making him the fifth leading scorer in the district. He only had nine points the first half but hitting at a blazing clip scored 26 in the second half.

At Columbus In March

Wellsville's Chuck Stone Named Tournament Scorer

The avocation of a Wellsville man, keeping the scorebooks for the high school basketball squads, has earned him a trip to the 1962 Ohio state basketball tournament.

Charles F. (Chuck) Stone, 38, of Russell Hgts., has been selected by the Ohio High School Athletic Association as the scorekeeper for the state tournament March 23-24 in Columbus.

RECOMMENDED by the Eastern District Athletic Board and confirmed by Commissioner W. J. McConnell of the OHSAA, the selection constitutes the fulfillment of a goal towards which Stone has worked for more than a decade.

His dream of wanting to keep the books for the annual sports event was brought to the attention of the Eastern District Board in a Review feature story last year.

James C. Wilson of Brilliant, president, recommended Stone's selection to the Eastern Board and it in turn passed along the resolution to state officials.

McCONNELL confirmed Stone's appointment last week as the scorekeeper for the six tournament games at St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus.

Stone will be the only scorekeeper for the finals, working both games involving Class A and Class AA schools.

"I'm real tickled at the appointment; it's something I've always wanted to do since I started keeping score for Wellsville," Stone happily declared today.

STONE has been scorekeeper for the Tigers since 1948 and has missed only one game in the 14 years — an impressive record that state officials apparently felt made him deserving of the choice.

A bachelor, stone has been employed at Wilson's Market in Wellsville for over 25 years and is active in other community activities besides sports.

He is the second area resident to be named a scorekeeper for the state tournament. Nate Lorah, faculty manager of East Liverpool High School, served as chief scorer for the 1956 tournament.

Showdown Battles Due On College Scene This Week

Buckeyes Tie Big Ten Record; Lucas Hits For 34 Points

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A showdown week in college basketball opens tonight, with a host of upper echelon teams due to meet head-on before the final shot is fired next Saturday.

The Southeastern Conference furnishes tonight's key attraction —Mississippi State at Kentucky. The defending champion Bulldogs are out to capture a share of the conference lead but will find the going rough against the streaking Wildcats, who have won 16 in a row counting Saturday night's 83-60 romp over Mississippi. Kentucky is 8-0 in the league and 17-1 over-all while Mississippi State is 18-1 and 7-1 after beating Tennessee 91-67 Saturday.

Ohio State, pace-setter in the nation and in the Big Ten, is at Michigan tonight. The Buckeyes (18-0) tied a record Saturday with their 23rd straight Big Ten victory as Jerry Lucas hit 14 of 15 field goal attempts and scored 34 points in a 91-66 rout of Minnesota.

Bradley (16-3) will be out to pad its Missouri Valley lead, entertaining Drake, while second-place Cincinnati (19-2) has a non-conference home game against George Washington. Bradley went out of the league Saturday night and barely nipped Louisville 80-79 on Chet Walker's last-ditch shot. Cincinnati beat Tulsa 70-52. These two rivals meet a week from tonight at Cincinnati.

Another conference leader, Colorado of the Big Eight, plays at home tonight against Oklahoma. The Buffs kept ahead Saturday by downing Nebraska 74-63 and Kansas State stayed right behind with a 65-59 decision over Missouri.

The Skyline race remained a scorcher, with Colorado State maintaining its half-game edge on Utah and Utah State. CSU beat Denver 77-62, Billy McGill exploded for 53 points as Utah whacked Montana 97-61 and Utah State got by Brigham Young 80-70. Big number of the week is Utah State at CSU Saturday.

Duke and Wake Forest, 1-2 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, warm up with one game apiece before squaring off at Wake Forest Thursday. The Deacons are at home to Virginia tonight and Duke is at Maryland Tuesday night. The Blue Devils swamped Virginia 101-75 Saturday after Wake Forest had beaten North Carolina 87-80.

With the Border title all wrapped up, Arizona State completes its conference schedule tonight at Hardin-Simmons. The Sun Devils (17-3) outpointed West Texas 107-103 Saturday night.

UCLA can go a long way toward the Big Five crown this weekend in a home-and-home series against Southern California. The Uclans stayed unbeaten in the conference by trimming Stanford Saturday 82-64, while Southern Cal lost to Stanford 67-56 Friday and rebounded over Washington 75-68.

Texas Tech regained first place in the Southwest Conference with its 81-62 victory over Baylor coupled with Southern Methodist's 59-44 decision against Texas A&M. Tech plays host to SMU Tuesday night and the Aggies, tied with SMU for second, have a home game with Texas.

Cornell plays at Yale for top spot in the Ivy League Friday night. The Red Raiders overcame Penn 60-50 Saturday and the Elis kept pace by defeating Dartmouth 85-72.

In other key conference action — West Virginia clinched the Southern's regular season title, drubbing George Washington 87-62; Mid-American leader Bowling Green shaded Marshall 73-70; St. Mary's (Calif.) retained its perfect record in the WCAC, ripping San Francisco 74-60; St. Joseph's (Pa.) took sole possession of the Middle Atlantic lead in a 72-71 squeaker with Delaware and next faces second-place Gettysburg Tuesday night at Philadelphia; and Massachusetts held its game and a half advantage in the Yankee Conference, clipping Maine 72-66.

Will Take Rest

Palmer Captures Phoenix Tournament By 12 Strokes

By DICK STUART

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Golf's No. 1 miracle-maker, Arnold Palmer, is going to play only one tournament in the next five weeks, much to the pleasure of his fellow pros.

The long-driving Miami, Fla., pro has said for some time he needs a rest. After his performance in the $35,000 Phoenix Open many rivals agree.

The victory margin was also the largest ever for a PGA event.

"My driving was by far the greatest reason for the big margin," Palmer said as he pocketed the $5,300 top money. "Those long irons came through for me several times.

The rest can't hurt him financially either. The 32-year-old golden boy is golfdom's third greatest money winner with total earnings of $275,754.76. He is only $7,200 short of Gary Middlecoff's career total and $9,000 behind Doug Ford.

It's been all Palmer the past two weeks. Before Phoenix he won the rich Palm Springs Classic.

He tucked away the Phoenix tourney with a five-under-par 66, his eighth sub-par round in his last nine. He never was seriously threatened after his opening 64 at Phoenix.

Sharing second-place money at 281 were Jack Nicklaus, the 1961 national amateur and intercollegiate champion, Bob McCallister, Don Fairfield and Bill Casper. They won $2,300 each.

Little Jim Beatty Cracks 1st 4-Minute Indoor Mile

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jim Beatty, the world's first indoor four-minute miler, will run in New York the next two weeks.

Because he'll be away from home, the dark-haired 27-year-old North Carolina graduate might even better his new American indoor record of 3:58.9.

But later he admitted "Being here in Los Angeles and having to run in Los Angeles, it's hard sometimes to get ready. There's no different routine. When I go out of town it's entirely different. You're going somewhere and you know why."

This week, he'll go to the New York Athletic Club games, then a week later will run in the National AAU indoor meet, also in New York. He'll run the mile in both meets.

Despite his brilliant performance before a packed house of 13,134, Beatty was only a narrow "athlete of the meet" winner over New Zealand's Peter Snell, who set an indoor mark for 1,000 yards.

Snell led from gun to tape as he powered to a 2:06 finish, 1.9 seconds under Ernie Cunliffe's former American indoor standard. He sped past the 880-yard flag in 1:50.2, an unofficial one-tenth under Arnie Sowell's American indoor record.

It was the fourth record since Jan. 27 for the 1960 Olympic games 800-meter champion. He ran a 3:54.4 outdoor mile that day, then followed a week later with a time of 1:45.1 for 880 yards and 1:44.3 for 800 meters.

Showdown Battles Due On College Scene This Week

Buckeyes Tie Big Ten Record; Lucas Hits For 34 Points

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A showdown week in college basketball opens tonight, with a host of upper echelon teams due to meet head-on before the final shot is fired next Saturday.

The Southeastern Conference furnishes tonight's key attraction —Mississippi State at Kentucky. The defending champion Bulldogs are out to capture a share of the conference lead but will find the going rough against the streaking Wildcats, who have won 16 in a row counting Saturday night's 83-60 romp over Mississippi. Kentucky is 8-0 in the league and 17-1 over-all while Mississippi State is 18-1 and 7-1 after beating Tennessee 91-67 Saturday.

Ohio State, pace-setter in the nation and in the Big Ten, is at Michigan tonight. The Buckeyes (18-0) tied a record Saturday with their 23rd straight Big Ten victory as Jerry Lucas hit 14 of 15 field goal attempts and scored 34 points in a 91-66 rout of Minnesota.

Bradley (16-3) will be out to pad its Missouri Valley lead, entertaining Drake, while second-place Cincinnati (19-2) has a non-conference home game against George Washington. Bradley went out of the league Saturday night and barely nipped Louisville 80-79 on Chet Walker's last-ditch shot. Cincinnati beat Tulsa 70-52. These two rivals meet a week from tonight at Cincinnati.

Another conference leader, Colorado of the Big Eight, plays at home tonight against Oklahoma. The Buffs kept ahead Saturday by downing Nebraska 74-63 and Kansas State stayed right behind with a 65-59 decision over Missouri.

The Skyline race remained a scorcher, with Colorado State maintaining its half-game edge on Utah and Utah State. CSU beat Denver 77-62, Billy McGill exploded for 53 points as Utah whacked Montana 97-61 and Utah State got by Brigham Young 80-70. Big number of the week is Utah State at CSU Saturday.

Duke and Wake Forest, 1-2 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, warm up with one game apiece before squaring off at Wake Forest Thursday. The Deacons are at home to Virginia tonight and Duke is at Maryland Tuesday night. The Blue Devils swamped Virginia 101-75 Saturday after Wake Forest had beaten North Carolina 87-80.

With the Border title all wrapped up, Arizona State completes its conference schedule tonight at Hardin-Simmons. The Sun Devils (17-3) outpointed West Texas 107-103 Saturday night.

UCLA can go a long way toward the Big Five crown this weekend in a home-and-home series against Southern California. The Uclans stayed unbeaten in the conference by trimming Stanford Saturday 82-64, while Southern Cal lost to Stanford 67-56 Friday and rebounded over Washington 75-68.

Texas Tech regained first place in the Southwest Conference with its 81-62 victory over Baylor coupled with Southern Methodist's 59-44 decision against Texas A&M. Tech plays host to SMU Tuesday night and the Aggies, tied with SMU for second, have a home game with Texas.

Cornell plays at Yale for top spot in the Ivy League Friday night. The Red Raiders overcame Penn 60-50 Saturday and the Elis kept pace by defeating Dartmouth 85-72.

In other key conference action — West Virginia clinched the Southern's regular season title, drubbing George Washington 87-62; Mid-American leader Bowling Green shaded Marshall 73-70; St. Mary's (Calif.) retained its perfect record in the WCAC, ripping San Francisco 74-60; St. Joseph's (Pa.) took sole possession of the Middle Atlantic lead in a 72-71 squeaker with Delaware and next faces second-place Gettysburg Tuesday night at Philadelphia; and Massachusetts held its game and a half advantage in the Yankee Conference, clipping Maine 72-66.

Will Take Rest

Palmer Captures Phoenix Tournament By 12 Strokes

By DICK STUART

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Golf's No. 1 miracle-maker, Arnold Palmer, is going to play only one tournament in the next five weeks, much to the pleasure of his fellow pros.

The long-driving Miami, Fla., pro has said for some time he needs a rest. After his performance in the $35,000 Phoenix Open many rivals agree.

Palmer won his second straight Phoenix title with a 72-hole score of 269, just one stroke off the course record. His nearest competitors were 12 strokes off the pace.

The victory margin was also the largest ever for a PGA event.

"My driving was by far the greatest reason for the big margin," Palmer said as he pocketed the $5,300 top money. "Those long irons came through for me several times.

The rest can't hurt him financially either. The 32-year-old golden boy is golfdom's third greatest money winner with total earnings of $275,754.76. He is only $7,200 short of Gary Middlecoff's career total and $9,000 behind Doug Ford.

It's been all Palmer the past two weeks. Before Phoenix he won the rich Palm Springs Classic.

He tucked away the Phoenix tourney with a five-under-par 66, his eighth sub-par round in his last nine. He never was seriously threatened after his opening 64 at Phoenix.

Sharing second-place money at 281 were Jack Nicklaus, the 1961 national amateur and intercollegiate champion, Bob McCallister, Don Fairfield and Bill Casper. They won $2,300 each.

Little Jim Beatty Cracks 1st 4-Minute Indoor Mile

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jim Beatty, the world's first indoor four-minute miler, will run in New York the next two weeks.

Because he'll be away from home, the dark-haired 27-year-old North Carolina graduate might even better his new American indoor record of 3:58.9.

Beatty has run 3:58 outdoors, so his performance was not a shock.

But later he admitted "Being here in Los Angeles and having to run in Los Angeles, it's hard sometimes to get ready. There's no different routine. When I go out of town it's entirely different. You're going somewhere and you know why."

This week, he'll go to the New York Athletic Club games, then a week later will run in the National AAU indoor meet, also in New York. He'll run the mile in both meets.

Despite his brilliant performance before a packed house of 13,134, Beatty was only a narrow "athlete of the meet" winner over New Zealand's Peter Snell, who set an indoor mark for 1,000 yards.

Snell led from gun to tape as he powered to a 2:06 finish, 1.9 seconds under Ernie Cunliffe's former American indoor standard. He sped past the 880-yard flag in 1:50.2, an unofficial one-tenth under Arnie Sowell's American indoor record.

It was the fourth record since Jan. 27 for the 1960 Olympic games 800-meter champion. He ran a 3:54.4 outdoor mile that day, then followed a week later with a time of 1:45.1 for 880 yards and 1:44.3 for 800 meters.

Three Remain Unbeaten In Church Loop

Second U. P. and First Church of Christ posted victories to remain tied for the Collegiate Division of the YMCA - Church League while Chester Christian won its fifth straight and held the lead in the Inter - Collegiate Division, Saturday night on the "Y" floor.

Second U. P. defeated Wellsville Central Methodist 33-8 with Chuck Golden collection 12 points. Alonzo Watson tallied four points for the losers.

First Church of Christ nipped Orchard Grove 22-18 with Jerry Vaughn's 10 markers leading the way. Bill Cunningham topped Orchard Grove with nine.

In other Collegiate play, Trinity U. P. scored a 19-11 win over Calvary Methodist. High for the winners was Allen Lowe with five points while Mike Silliman netted eight for the losers.

Bob Graham turned in a 19-point performance in Chester Christian's 28-8 win over First U. P. Dana Stoddard paced the losers with four.

Other Inter - Collegiate battles saw Chester Methodist with Danny Forsythe scoring 17 points, whip St. John's, 24-12. Ron Roach tallied five points for the losers.

Gary Oakes and Tom Hansen dropped in eight points each to spark Boyce Methodist's 23-7 victory over First Nazarene. Kenny Seibert's four points were high for the losers.

LaCroft Nazarene posted a 22-11 win over St. Stephens as Alford Colan dropped in nine points. Tom Burnett led St. Stephens with seven.

Poland In 15th Straight Win At Lisbon, 72-To-38

LISBON — Poland rolled over Lisbon, 72-38, here Saturday night to notch its 15th straight victory without a defeat.

The Tri-County leaders built a 37-16 halftime lead and had little trouble coasting to another win.

Tim Walter and Dave Barnhiser dropped in 16 each for Poland. Craig Pannier and Larry McPherson shared honors with 13 points apiece to pace the Blue Devils.

Blast Hits 4 Stores

CLEVELAND (AP)—A gas explosion in the basement of a commercial building on the West Side Sunday night caused an estimated $1,000 damage to four stores. No one was hurt.

Water Damages Grocery's Stock In Break Of Line

"It looked like it was raining," Mrs. John Barcus commented sorrowfully today in contemplating the stock loss at Martin's Market, 2111 Harvey Ave., from a broken water line in the ceiling between the grocery and an upstairs apartment Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Barcus, who operates the Klondyke grocery with her husband, estimated the damage at "several hundred dollars," but said the exact loss won't be known until later.

"We'll have to see how many labels were washed off," she said.

Grange Program Set

No Old Men, Ike Advises GOP For '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported to have told Republicans he has no intention of campaigning for "old men" in this year's elections.

Eisenhower, who is 71, was represented as pressing party members to work for the nomination of young candidates for governor and Senate and House seats. Some confidantes quoted him as saying he wanted no "gray-haired old men" running on the GOP ticket if it could be helped.

This serve-the-youth movement apparently led the former president into some difficulties in his adopted state of Pennsylvania. He convinced Sen. Hugh Scott in a telephone conversation that Scott ought to make himself available for the party nomination for governor.

Scott reported that Eisenhower said he could support actively a ticket on which Scott was a member but could not campaign for a ticket on which Judge Robert E. Woodside of the State Superior Court would run for governor and Rep. James E. Van Zandt would oppose Sen. Joseph S. Clark, a Democrat for the Senate seat. Somehow the word got out that Eisenhower considered this a "miserable ticket."

What was reported was that Eisenhower said privately that he thought the Woodside-Van Zandt ticket too old. Woodside is 57; Scott is 61 but looks younger.

Subsequently Eisenhower felt constrained to say in a telegram to Van Zandt, who is 63, that what he had said was not "in any way intended as personally derogatory to you."

He didn't have to urge Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is 53, to seek re-election in New York. But he encouraged Fred A. Seaton, 52, his former secretary of interior, to seek the Nebraska governorship.

The former president was one of those who helped convince former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is 48, that he ought to run for the Republican nomination for governor in California.

Eisenhower also had a potent influence on the decision of George Romney, American Motors president, to run for the GOP nomination for governor in Michigan. Romney is 54.

Sheppard Urges Hypnotic Trance For Murder Clue

CLEVELAND (AP) — In the hope that new information might be brought out about the Sheppard murder case, Dr. Stephen Sheppard says he would like to see his brother, Dr. Sam Sheppard, placed in a hypnotic trance and made to relive the events of the night of July 3, 1954.

That was the night Dr. Sam's wife, Marilyn, was bludgeoned to death. Dr. Sam, convicted of second-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison, maintains a bushy-haired stranger actually committed the widely-publicized crime.

His brother, speaking on a radio program Sunday night, urged that a skilled hypnotist should be allowed to place Dr. Sam in a deep trance. "take him back in time to the evening of July 3, 1954," Dr. Sheppard urged. "Have him relive every part of that evening, relating every detail as it actually occurred.

"All this could be recorded on magnetic tape and movie film. It could then be studied for discrepancies and the stories of others involved could be checked against it."

Stephen Sheppard said "a massive collection of new and important information" would be disclosed, which would help establish the identity of the "real killer."

"This would truly be new evidence and could be the basis of a new trial if not immediate complete exoneration," he said.

Dr. Sheppard criticized Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for failing to allow polygraph (lie detector) and hypno - analysis experts to examine his brother.

Approach Of Officer Frightens Thief Away

Approach of an officer on foot patrol frightened away a thief who was in the act of removing hubcaps from an auto on a used car lot at 3:25 this morning, police reported.

Patrolman L. E. Richard said he found a hubcap had been removed from the right rear wheel of a 1959 model station wagon on the Broadway lot of M. & A. Motors, but left lying alongside the wheel. Apparently the thief was frightened away by the patrolman's approach, police said.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Charles Bishop, 183 Maine Blvd., told police late Sunday afternoon the radio antenna was broken off her 1953 model auto while it was parked near her home between Saturday and Sunday.

Low Price Cited For Grapefruit, 'Local' Potatoes

Grapefruit and locally - grown potatoes lead the list of plentiful foods which can be obtained at low prices, according to Richard Skinner, market information specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service in Canfield.

Potatoes grown in this section of the country are priced "ridiculously" low, Skinner said. Quality varies, but there are some fine potatoes in most markets, he said.

There will continue to be a good supply of grapefruit available for the next few weeks. Tangerines are about gone until next year. We have a rather normal supply of oranges at this time.

Some fresh vegetable prices are high, for example — cucumbers, greens, peppers, cauliflower and snap beans. An adequate supply of head lettuce, celery, cabbage and carrots will keep prices where they are for the next week or two. Tomato prices came tumbling down and are quite reasonable now.

Broiler supplies are comparatively light. Prices at both the farm and retail levels have moved up considerably since last fall and are now above a year ago.

Blast Hits 4 Stores

CLEVELAND (AP)—A gas explosion in the basement of a commercial building on the West Side Sunday night caused an estimated $1,000 damage to four stores. No one was hurt.

Water Damages Grocery's Stock In Break Of Line

"It looked like it was raining," Mrs. John Barcus commented sorrowfully today in contemplating the stock loss at Martin's Market, 2111 Harvey Ave., from a broken water line in the ceiling between the grocery and an upstairs apartment Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Barcus, who operates the Klondyke grocery with her husband, estimated the damage at "several hundred dollars," but said the exact loss won't be known until later.

"We'll have to see how many labels were washed off," she said.

City firemen, called to the store at 3:39 p. m., said a hot water line broke beneathe the bathroom floor in the apartment of Ann Price.

Grange Program Set

No Old Men, Ike Advises GOP For '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported to have told Republicans he has no intention of campaigning for "old men" in this year's elections.

Eisenhower, who is 71, was represented as pressing party members to work for the nomination of young candidates for governor and Senate and House seats. Some confidantes quoted him as saying he wanted no "gray-haired old men" running on the GOP ticket if it could be helped.

This serve-the-youth movement apparently led the former president into some difficulties in his adopted state of Pennsylvania. He convinced Sen. Hugh Scott in a telephone conversation that Scott ought to make himself available for the party nomination for governor.

Scott reported that Eisenhower said he could support actively a ticket on which Scott was a member but could not campaign for a ticket on which Judge Robert E. Woodside of the State Superior Court would run for governor and Rep. James E. Van Zandt would oppose Sen. Joseph S. Clark, a Democrat for the Senate seat. Somehow the word got out that Eisenhower considered this a "miserable ticket."

What was reported was that Eisenhower said privately that he thought the Woodside-Van Zandt ticket too old. Woodside is 57; Scott is 61 but looks younger.

Subsequently Eisenhower felt constrained to say in a telegram to Van Zandt, who is 63, that what he had said was not "in any way intended as personally derogatory to you."

Whatever happens in Pennsylvania, Eisenhower has some comparatively youthful candidates going for him in several states.

He didn't have to urge Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is 53, to seek re-election in New York. But he encouraged Fred A. Seaton, 52, his former secretary of interior, to seek the Nebraska governorship.

The former president was one of those who helped convince former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is 48, that he ought to run for the Republican nomination for governor in California.

Eisenhower also had a potent influence on the decision of George Romney, American Motors president, to run for the GOP nomination for governor in Michigan. Romney is 54.

Child Urged Lincoln To Grow Beard

In Abraham Lincoln's time whiskers were fashionable. But Lincoln had never worn whiskers until after he was nominated for President. Here is a letter he received from Grace Bedell, eleven years old.

Dr. Garry Meyers

Dear Sir:

My father has just come home from the fair and brought your picture and Mr. Hamlin's. I am a little girl only eleven years old, but want you should be President of the United States very much so I hope you won't think me very bold to write to such a great man as you are. Have you any little girls about as large as I am if so give them my love and tell her to write me if you cannot answer this letter. I have got four brothers and part of them will vote for you anyway and if you will let your whiskers grow I will try and get the rest of them to vote for you.

YOU WOULD LOOK a great deal better for your face is so thin. All the ladies like whiskers and they would tease their husbands to vote for you and then you would be President. My father is going to vote for you and if I was a man I would vote for you too but I will try and get everyone to vote for you that I can. I think that rail fence around your picture makes it look very pretty. I have got a little baby sister she is nine weeks old and is cunning as can be. When you direct your letter direct to Grace Bedell Westfield Chataqua County, New York.

Good bye

Grace Bedell

Mr. Lincoln answered Grace in his own handwriting:

"As to whiskers, having never worn any, do you not think people would call it a piece of silly affectation if I were to begin now?"

—:—

HE MUST HAVE changed his mind, for at election time he had a full-grown beard. On his way to Washington, when his train stopped at Westfield, New York, on February 20, 1861, he said to an assembled crowd:

"I am glad to see you. I suppose you are glad to see me; but I certainly think I have the best of the bargain."

Then, addressing all, he said: "Some three months ago, I received a letter from a young lady here; it was a very pretty letter, and she advised me to let my whiskers grow, as it would improve my personal appearance. Acting partly upon her suggestion, I have done so; and now if she is here, I would like to see her. . ."

Of course she was there.

That a great man should have answered a little girl's letter the day he received it, and let his beard grow "partly at her suggestion" is wonderful indeed. We will never know why he did it, but the letters and newspaper reports of that day prove that he did.

Calories Definitely Do Count

What about the revolutionary theory that calories don't count—in fact, that dieter's must eat fat to stay slim? A flurry of requests have come in asking your dietitian's views on the high - fat diet for reducing.

Ida Jean Kain

Weight control depends on the relation of the energy value of a person's food intake, measured in calories, to his energy need for basal metabolism and physical work, also measured in calories.

Nothing has ever changed nature's first law of thermodynamics, that of the conservation of energy. Things do not disappear, they only change form. Reducing measures must conform to this law. Calories definitely do count.

FIRST UNDERSTAND that the term high-fat is misleading, for it is really a low carbohydrate diet. The dietary proportion of fat becomes higher as the intake of sugar and starch is decreased. Eliminating carbohydrate - rich foods lowers the calories.

The high protein-fat regime excludes bread, flour, sugar and alcohol — which certainly adds up to calorie restriction.

Last year your dietitian took a course in the "Latest Advances in Nutrition", sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and taught by Dr. Olaf Mickelsen, Chief of the Laboratory of Nutrition and Endocrinology of the National Institutes of Health. Given a choice of special projects, naturally I chose "Weight Reduction". The research material included many papers on the controversial high-fat method for reducing.

Briefly, here is the Pennington theory: He suggested that a metabolic block in the oxidative pathway of pyruvic acid is a factor, which by inducing excessive fat storage, disturbs the balance between calorie intake and output; and restriction of carboyhydrate was suggested in a calorically unrestricted diet, composed chiefly of protein and fat.

The idea that one can reduce on unlimited calories is so fascinating that overweights are tempted to believe that calories — at long last — are outmoded. As I studied the papers, the theory sounded plausible and so promising that I thought just possibly the high-fat diet might be a way out for hungry dieters. Dr. Mickelsen promptly set me straight on that score. Calories will always be the key to weight control.

What actually happens when weight loss is achieved through a high-protein, high-fat regime is this: The weight loss is due chiefly to the depressing effect that large amounts of fat have on the appetite and to the dehydration of the body tissues caused by abnormal amounts of fat.

DIETS WITH excessive amounts of fat may be effective in reducing weight temporarily over a short period. Such an abnormal diet should not be recommended, however, because scientific proof of its value is lacking, and the long-term effect on body processes has not been determined.

There is no mystery about the so-called high-fat diets. . .it is still calorie subtraction, although not so labelled. Calories definitely do count — excess calories count heavily.

Oxford Mother Files Child Stealing Charge

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Anne Sandage, was to return to William H. McGuffey School today after a three-day absence that made her mother sign a child stealing warrant against Anne's father.

Mrs. Irman Sandage told police Sunday she had received a telegram from Curtis N. Sandage, the former husband, saying Anne would return today. She said Sandage claimed he was only "enjoying reasonable visiting rights" with the child.

Oxford Mother Files Child Stealing Charge

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Anne Sandage, was to return to William H. McGuffey School today after a three-day absence that made her mother sign a child stealing warrant against Anne's father.

Mrs. Irman Sandage told police Sunday she had received a telegram from Curtis N. Sandage, the former husband, saying Anne would return today. She said Sandage claimed he was only "enjoying reasonable visiting rights" with the child.

LEGAL NOTICE

Phyllis Mae Welch, whose present address is unknown, but whose last known place of residence was 626 Garner Avenue, East Liverpool, Ohio, will take notice that the Plaintiff, Donald R. Welch, has filed a Petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, Ohio, praying for a divorce from said Defendant, for custody and control of the minor children, and equitable relief, being Case No. 47607.

It is alleged in said Petition that the Defendant is seized in fee of an undivided half interest in the following described real estate:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio:

TRACT I: That certain parcel of ground designated by beginning at a point Three Hundred Eight and 42-100 (308.42) feet west of the intersection of the northwest corner of a street known as Inez Avenue and Calcutta Road, and extending westwardly along the street known as Inez Avenue a distance of Forty-five (45) feet to a point; thence at right angles and in a northwardly direction of One Hundred Five and 65-100 (105.65) feet to a point on a street known as Mildred Avenue; thence at right angles in an eastwardly direction along the south line of Mildred Avenue, a distance of Forty-five (45) feet to a point; thence at right angles and in a southwardly direction a distance of One Hundred Five and 65-100 (105.65) feet to the place of beginning.

Said Parcel of ground is designated as Lot Number Seven Thousand Eight Hundred fifty-five (7856) on the unrecorded plat of Frederick C. Nagel.

TRACT II: Situated in the Township of Liverpool, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio:

Known as and being that certain Lot numbered Seventy-eight Hundred Fifty-Six (7856), as said Lot is numbered and distinguished on the recorded plat of Frederick C. Nagel's Addition in said Township.

The Plaintiff, Donald R. Welch, in his Petition, further prays that said above described real estate be appropriated and awarded to him as and for alimony.

Said Defendant, Phyllis Mae Welch, is hereby notified that said cause be for hearing on the 24th day of March, 1962, at 10:00 A.M., or as soon as the Court may conveniently hear the same.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I do a good job of cleaning my silverware?

A. Place your silver in a gallon of hot water, using an aluminum pan. Add one tablespoon of ordinary salt and one teaspoon of baking soda. Then rinse, and dry.

Q. How can I waterproof some matches for outdoor or camping use?

A. By dipping their tips into melted paraffin, or applying some colorless fingernail polish to them.

Q. How can I prevent the screw tops of glue, shellac, and other such sticky-material bottles from sealing themselves so tightly that their later removal creates a big problem?

A. You can overcome this difficulty by applying a little petroleum jelly to the glass threads at the top of the bottle, and then the caps will be much easier to remove thenceforth.

Q. What is wrong when my iron sticks to the clothing as I press it?

A. Too much starch, clothes not properly rinsed, or dirt on the bottom of your iron will cause this. If it's the bottom that's at fault, rub with a damp cloth when cool. Polish with a dry cloth. For stubborn cases, use silver polish, or run the iron over a little table salt spread on waxed paper. In the case of some rayons and other synthetic fabrics, too hot an iron will cause sticking.

Q. I always have trouble when pinning on or cutting the patterns from slippery fabrics. Do you have any suggestions?

A. Try spreading your fabric on a clean rug or carpet, whose nap should hold it still enough for easier work.

Q. Should one use hot or cold water when making a mustard plaster?

A. Neither. The water should be tepid.

Q. My cedar chest seems to have lot most of its former pleasant aroma. Is there any way I can remedy this?

A. You can accomplish this very easily, simply by going over the inside surface lightly with some sandpaper. This allows the wood to "breathe" again, and restores its fragrance.

Junior Editors Quiz on VISION

QUESTION: What is an optical illusion?

ANSWER: If a person is near us, he looks as tall as he really is, but as he walks away he seems to grow smaller and smaller until he is only a speck on the distant horizon. Yet we know the person has not really grown smaller. Distance has given us that "illusion," or false impression The road on which he walks seems to grow smaller as he walks away, too. The trees along the way seem shorter, the houses meant for dolls.

There are many forms of optical illusion. White objects at a disatnce appear larger than black ones at the same distance, and up and down stripes on an object make it look narrow, while stripes across make it seem wide. When we are drawing a group of objects we make those in the foreground larger and those in the distance smaller, even though we know that the objects we are drawing are actually the same size. Thus we use optical illusion to give our drawings "perspective."

★ ★ ★

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A recent column dealing with men who dine alone left your readers with some mistaken notions.

Such men are not necessarily antisocial sourpusses. It could be that they are just plain fed up with the sound of voices and wish to enjoy a few blessed moments of silence.

I am qualified to speak on this subject because I am one of those individuals who must talk to people (or listen) all day long, either on the telephone or in person.

Lunch alone is a treat. I look forward to it. It affords me an opportunity to relax. I can read if I feel like it — or just indulge in my favorite sport — people watching.

It is unfair to suggest that lone diners are oddballs and I hope you will print this letter to set the record straight — ONE WHO EATS ALONE AND LIKES IT.

Dear One: Here is your letter —and a good one it is, too. The next letter is from a kindred spirit. Perhaps you two ought to eat together.

Loneliness Ruined

Dear Ann: You and your big mouth. This noon I went to my favorite little restaurant for lunch. I like to eat alone and all the waitresses know it.

Today a waitress shoved your column in my face and said, "See, Ann Landers said you should have company."

Two seconds later she seated an insufferable windbag at my table. He handed me his business card and tried to sell me insurance. I put the newspaper in front of my face but he didn't take the hint. I gobbled my lunch and left.

If you need a "cause," Ann Landers, why don't you do something for those unfortunate neurotics who can't bear to be by themselves for five minutes. THEY are the ones who need help. — SELF SUFFICIENT.

Safe And Sane

Dear Ann: I'm a high school junior, almost 17, and I need some advice on love. I can't talk to my mother about this because she's too old to remember what love was like. She is 42.

For five straight months I dated Rick. He was the "most" to say the least. Thrillsville, no less. We necked a lot but I managed to keep him within the city limits, if you get what I mean.

After awhile he got pretty demanding and every time we had a date we'd wind up arguing about the same old thing. The struggle was getting to be too much of a problem so I returned his ring and sweater and told him goodby. He is dating other girls now and I am dating other fellows.

The boys I date are really much nicer than Rick, and they are no threat to my purity. But I miss Rick like crazy. Am I nuts? — LOVE, LTD.

Dear Ltd.: No, you're not nuts, just human. The rogues and scoundrels often have a fatal fascination, just as forbidden fruit can be especially alluring.

But the smart girl tells herself it's not worth it. Congratulations for having the sound judgment and the strength of character to choose the right course. You won't regret it.

Confidentially

TO END OF THE ROPE: Tie a knot and hang on. You didn't think it was going to be all honey and sugar, did you? Like I keep saying. "Marriage is for adults only."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average three to six degrees above normal. Normal high 35-36, normal low 19-22. Warming until turning colder near end of week. Precipitation will average about one-fourth inch melted as as rain or snow about Wednesday and again toward end of week.

Needle Pattern

Driver Complains Car Seems To Be Sluggish

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —A motorist drove into a garage outside Odense and complained his car wouldn't go as fast as usual.

The attendant found another car hanging on to the rear bumper. It had caught on when the motorist maneuvered out of a parking space two miles away.

Faces Grand Jury

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ronald Guiles, 27, of Anderson, Ind., was bound to the grand jury Friday by Barberton Municipal Judge Charles H. Jenney on a first-degree murder charge. Authorities said Guiles admitted fatally shooting Joseph N. Galbraith, 48, on Jan. 31 but claimed it was accidental.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Such men are not necessarily antisocial sourpusses. It could be that they are just plain fed up with the sound of voices and wish to enjoy a few blessed moments of silence.

I am qualified to speak on this subject because I am one of those individuals who must talk to people (or listen) all day long, either on the telephone or in person.

Lunch alone is a treat. I look forward to it. It affords me an opportunity to relax. I can read if I feel like it — or just indulge in my favorite sport — people watching.

It is unfair to suggest that lone diners are oddballs and I hope you will print this letter to set the record straight — ONE WHO EATS ALONE AND LIKES IT.

Dear One: Here is your letter —and a good one it is, too. The next letter is from a kindred spirit. Perhaps you two ought to eat together.

Loneliness Ruined

Dear Ann: You and your big mouth. This noon I went to my favorite little restaurant for lunch. I like to eat alone and all the waitresses know it.

Today a waitress shoved your column in my face and said, "See, Ann Landers said you should have company."

Two seconds later she seated an insufferable windbag at my table. He handed me his business card and tried to sell me insurance. I put the newspaper in front of my face but he didn't take the hint. I gobbled my lunch and left.

If you need a "cause," Ann Landers, why don't you do something for those unfortunate neurotics who can't bear to be by themselves for five minutes. THEY are the ones who need help. — SELF SUFFICIENT.

Safe And Sane

Dear Ann: I'm a high school junior, almost 17, and I need some advice on love. I can't talk to my mother about this because she's too old to remember what love was like. She is 42.

For five straight months I dated Rick. He was the "most" to say the least. Thrillsville, no less. We necked a lot but I managed to keep him within the city limits, if you get what I mean.

After awhile he got pretty demanding and every time we had a date we'd wind up arguing about the same old thing. The struggle was getting to be too much of a problem so I returned his ring and sweater and told him goodby. He is dating other girls now and I am dating other fellows.

Dear Ltd.: No, you're not nuts, just human. The rogues and scoundrels often have a fatal fascination, just as forbidden fruit can be especially alluring.

But the smart girl tells herself it's not worth it. Congratulations for having the sound judgment and the strength of character to choose the right course. You won't regret it.

Confidentially

TO END OF THE ROPE: Tie a knot and hang on. You didn't think it was going to be all honey and sugar, did you? Like I keep saying. "Marriage is for adults only."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Driver Complains Car Seems To Be Sluggish

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —A motorist drove into a garage outside Odense and complained his car wouldn't go as fast as usual.

The attendant found another car hanging on to the rear bumper. It had caught on when the motorist maneuvered out of a parking space two miles away.

Faces Grand Jury

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ronald Guiles, 27, of Anderson, Ind., was bound to the grand jury Friday by Barberton Municipal Judge Charles H. Jenney on a first-degree murder charge. Authorities said Guiles admitted fatally shooting Joseph N. Galbraith, 48, on Jan. 31 but claimed it was accidental.
